INTRODUCTION

"Many years ago, the kingdom of Aliahan ruled the world. Although its former influence has diminished, its people lived in peace. That is, until the rise of the Demon Lord Baramos . . . The kingdom's great hero, Ortega, embarked on a journey to defeat Baramos, but was said to have perished from a plunge into the maw of a volcano.

Over a dozen years later, a single youth strides purposefully into the castle of Aliahan. The youth is the hero Ortega's only child. The King, recognizing the youth's determination to succeed the fallen father, commands, "Defeat the Demon Lord Baramos."

You are the young hero of Aliahan. Assemble a team of trusted companions for a spectacular quest to save the world from the terrors of the Demon Lord Baramos."

You are in charge of a group of adventurers seeking to defeat the Demon Lord Baramos. Along the way, you battle a great many monsters to gain the experience necessary to defeat him. You must also speak to your fellow citizens to learn about the tools you need to reach Baramos' lair.

CONVENTIONS USED IN THIS GUIDE

This guide is easy to use and is filled with information to help you. It is not, however, meant to stand in for the Dragon Warrior III manual. This guide is written with the expectation that you have already read the game's manual and are familiar with the game's basics.

STARTING YOUR ADVENTURE

"Preparing for Adventure" and "Playing Dragon Warrior III" cover everything you need to know when starting the game, from how to take the Personality Quiz to figuring out the best ways to hunt for buried treasure. Check these sections for a more detailed explanation about how certain game systems work.

THE WALKTHROUGH

The bulk of this guide walks you through the game. Instead a long, narrative style walkthrough, we've broken it into two sections: the flowchart walkthrough and the maps. The flowchart walkthrough is designed to get you from Point A to Point B with minimum fuss. The map section offers maps of all the game's dungeons and major towns along with tips and hints about special points of interest. Combine both sections to get the right amount of help you need or desire!

MONSTERS, ITEMS, SPELLS, AND MINI-GAMES

The remainder of the guide provides detailed information about all of the spells, items, and monsters found in Dragon Warrior III. We've also provided a chapter with hints and tips about the Mini-Games. These games increase your enjoyment of the game and also fill your coffers!

PREPARING FOR ADVENTURE: CHOOSING YOUR PARTY AND TAKING THE PERSONALITY QUIZ

Open a new file, name your character (there is a four letter limit), and choose its gender. Then you are whisked away to a promontory overlooking a waterfall where a disembodied spirit waits to test you and assess your personality.

◀ You'll meet this "voice" later in the game!

The game's developers have reserved a few names for the game itself (specifically the names Eric and Loto) so you can't use them as your character's name. Get around this barrier by capitalizing the entire name or various letters.

The personality system allows you to customize your character to reflect your own personality. Answer the questions honestly. You should know a few things about the personality system. First of all, the personality assigned to your character determines how his or her stats are likely to increase whenever the character levels up. For example, a Valiant character's STR and VIT stats will grow more quickly than the rest of his or her abilities, making this character a paragon of physical strength and vitality. A Smart character emphasizes INT first, then VIT and AGL, creating a person who's better at casting spells than bludgeoning monsters with a sword.

However, it is easy to change a character's personality to reflect changes in Job Class or strategies in leveling up. Many books hidden in the bookcases of the cities and villages of Dragon Warrior III instantly transform a character's personality. Also, many accessories change a character's personality while that item is equipped. So, if you want to change your Valiant Hero into a Smart Hero to even out the disparities between his STR and INT stats, have him read a Smart Book or wear the INT Spectacles for awhile.

The following table demonstrates how each personality affects the growth of a character's stats. The growth rate of an ability is rated here on a scale of 1 to 7, with 4 being normal, 1 being sub-normal, and 7 being the fastest rate of growth.

HOW THE PERSONALITY QUIZ WORKS

The Personality Quiz given at the start of the game has two parts: Q&A and practical application. The Q&A segment asks you enough questions for the computer to determine your basic personality leanings. Your personality is further defined when the computer watches you perform in one of eight scenarios. How you react to the situation determines your starting personality.

◀ Answering the questions truthfully gives you a character with a personality similar to your own.

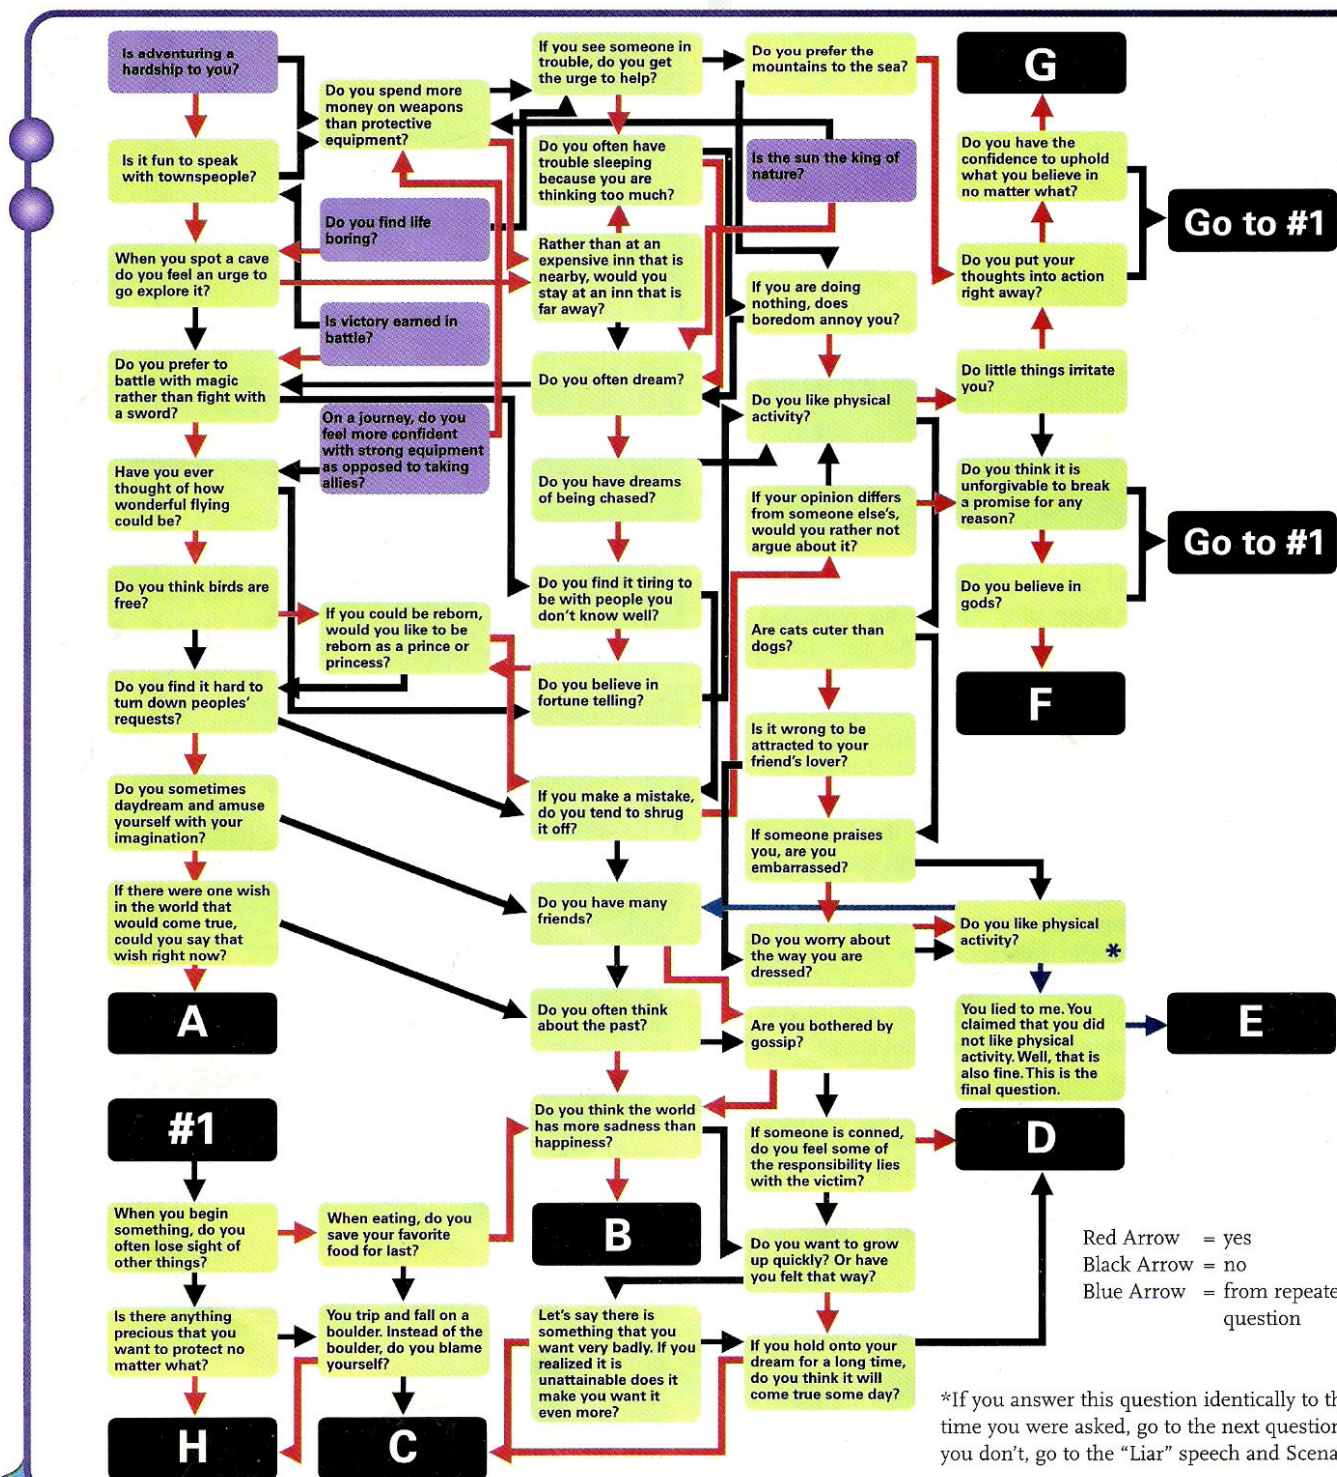

As you can see from the table in the previous section, there are certain benefits to getting some personalities over others. Fortunately, with the information provided below, you can easily arrange it so that you start off with the personality you most desire.

First, you've got to get to the scenario that tests for the personality you want. Do that by answering the questions in a specific way.

The quiz has 50 questions: 5 "starter" questions (1 is chosen at random at the start of the quiz) and 45 "regular" questions. Answering yes or no to a question prompts the computer to move to another question or to place you into a final scenario. Use the flowchart to negotiate the maze of questions and get the result you want. Keep in mind that the number of questions you are asked varies based on the scenario you are looking for and the way in which you answer the questions leading up to the scenario.

At the end of the Q&A period, the computer places you into a scenario to see how you react. What you do here determines your starting personality. What follows is a description of each scenario and a list of what actions lead to which personalities.

SCENARIO A: THE TOWER

* What is it?
If you're going to

You start at the top of a tower as a participant in a challenge to test your courage. You can either jump off the tower or leave via the stairs.

Action	Personality
Jump off the tower	Romantic
Leave via the stairs	Lonesome

SCENARIO B: THE BOULDER IN THE FOREST

Your desire to be helpful determines your personality in this scenario. You meet a man who tells you how to get out of the forest. In return, he'd like you to bring him any boulders you find on the way. The number of boulders you push back to the man determines your personality.

* Whoa-whoa-whoa!
I see you're lost.

Action	Personality
Bring back 0-1 boulders	Lazy
Bring back 2-5 boulders	Vain
Bring back 6-19 boulders	Diligent
Bring back 20-39 boulders	Eager
Bring back 40 boulders	Tough

SCENARIO C: THE MAZE

Scenario C: the Maze places you in a labyrinthine cavern. Read the signs and follow their instructions to the cave's exit. Failing to follow the signs puts you at risk, and the things that happen when you leave the safe path determine your personality. Should you decide to explore the cave, you quickly discover many traps and pitfalls that can affect the outcome.

Action	Personality
Follow the signs and make it to the exit without mishap	Stubborn
Ignore the first sign (fall down a pit)	Selfish
Ignore the second, third, or fourth sign (fall down pits)	Defiant
Go for the treasure (fall down pit)	Foolish
Save the maiden	Honest

SCENARIO D: THE FAMOUS DANCER

This scenario places you as the go-between for a young man and his newly famous dancer girlfriend. How you handle the situation determines your personality. You have four choices, including leaving the theater.

Dancing up on the stage is Ponny.

Action Personality

Leave the theatre (at any point)	Carefree
After relaying the message to Ponny, answer "Yes" to the boy's question	Weepy
After relaying the message to Ponny, answer "No" to the boy's question	Solitary
After relaying the message to Ponny, answer "Huh?" to the boy's question	Naive

SCENARIO E: THE THEFT

This tricky situation tests your honesty. An old man asks you to fetch a purse from his house. When you get the purse, you are arrested for theft. How you defend yourself determines your personality.

Waif: Grandpa,
I'm hungry...

Action Personality

Leave town without getting the purse	Timid
Plead guilty to taking the purse (accept the blame)	Vain
Plead not guilty (say that you were tricked)	Alert

SCENARIO F: THE MONSTER IN THE WELL

In Scenario F, you appear as a monster bent on destroying the town and its inhabitants. Press A to breathe flame on whatever stands in front of you. Your personality is determined by how many people you eliminate while in the town. The scenario ends when you exit the town. Take out the man who challenges you at the start of the scenario.

* Oh, oh, oh, oh!

Action Personality

Take out only one or two people (including the man at the start)	Valiant
Eliminate everyone except the man hiding outside the Inn	Careless
Take out the little boy in bed and anyone (or everyone) else	Logical
Leave town with the boy alive and the Nun dead	Cowardly
Leave town with the boy and the Nun alive, but more than two people dead	Helpless

SCENARIO G: LOST IN THE DESERT

Scenario G finds you in the middle of the desert. To the north are two brothers in dire straits. One is too tired to continue walking, and they only have enough water for one to make it to the desert's edge. You must help the brothers decide what to do.

Action

Tell him to leave his brother behind
Tell him to carry his brother with him
Tell him to leave the canteen with his brother

Personality

Bully
Macho
Fearless

SCENARIO H: THE QUEEN'S TREACHERY

The final scenario is the strangest. You arrive outside the chambers of a greedy Queen who covets a neighboring kingdom's jewels. When you speak to her, she spins a tale of that state's treachery and their plans to invade our kingdom. Your personality is decided by your reaction to the briefing downstairs. You can leave the castle or speak to the troubled duke in the room next to the throne room.

Action

Leave the castle directly
Believe that the king's orders are absolute and must be followed
Believe that how people decide what is right or wrong often depends on the individual
Believe that the king's orders can be ignored if they are clearly wrong
Say "No" to both of the duke's propositions (you believe that the king's orders are not absolute but it's wrong to ignore them even if you think they're wrong)

Personality

Happy
Lewd (if male)
Sexy (if female)
Smart
Silly
Kindly

PERSONALITIES AND THE REST OF YOUR TEAM

Your teammates are also assigned personalities when you create them in Ruida's Tavern. As with the Hero, your teammates' personalities affect how their stats grow when they level up. Unfortunately, rigging their personalities is not as easy as rigging the Hero's.

► Upstairs in Ruida's Tavern is the registrar. Here you create characters you can then recruit downstairs at the bar.

If you manually create a character on the tavern's second floor, assign the character a name, gender, and Job Class. At that point, the character's stats are randomly generated based on the average stats for that character's gender and class plus a few bonus points. Further increase the character's individual stats by giving him or her five seeds of your choice. These seeds provide a bonus of one to three points to the targeted stat. So, you can raise that character's STR stat by giving him or her five STRseeds, or apply the raises across the board by giving him or her one of each of the five seeds. After you've applied the five seeds, your character's personality is determined. Keep or delete the character you've created.

► Choose the seeds carefully if you are trying to create a character with a specific personality type.

Your characters' personalities are determined by the bonuses you and the computer apply to their base stats. Say you decide to create a male Warrior. The base stats for a Warrior are STR-9, AGL-2, VIT-9, INT-2, and LUCK-3. When your character's stats are generated, the computer adds random bonuses to some of the abilities, giving you a character with the following stats: STR-10, AGL-4, VIT-10, INT-4, LUCK-4.

The bonuses you add to those stats using the five types of stat-raising seeds determine what kind of personality the character ends up with. So if you want a Warrior with a Valiant personality, or any personality that values strength before anything else (such as the Amazon or Jock personalities), add all of your bonuses to the STR value. If the seeds provide enough of a bonus (two or three points per seed), your character ends up with one of the higher STR-focused personalities, such as Valiant or Amazon. If the seeds only give you one or two points per seed, you end up with one of the lesser STR-focused personalities, such as Macho or Bully.

► A Valiant Warrior vs. a Macho Warrior.

The following pages provide more detailed information about each Job Class, including the top five personality recommendations for that class. Use the table here to create characters with those personalities. However, there's a down side to rigging your teammates' personalities: Those with the best personalities often end up with the most unbalanced stats. Consider the Valiant Warrior above. With a STR value of 21, he is incredibly strong. Unfortunately, his AGL rating of 4 guarantees that he will be one of the last characters to attack in each round of battle, most likely after the enemy has attacked.

CREATING A WELL-BALANCED PARTY

It's important to put together a well-balanced team. For the first part of the game (up until you get a ship from the King of Portuga), you travel on foot from town to town. This puts you in the path of many monsters, some weak, some strong. You want a durable party that can handle the stress of lots of travel and little rest.

The recommended party construction for most players is two fighters and two spell casters. The Hero character can take either role, depending upon your preference. If you like using swords over spells, consider him or her a spell caster and add another fighter to your team. If you prefer the use of spells over brute force, place the Hero in the fighter column and add another spell caster. My initial team consisted of the Hero, a Warrior, a Thief, and a Mage. If I could have made any changes, I would have traded in my Mage for a Cleric. Other recommended teams include:

- Hero, Warrior/Fighter, Cleric, Mage
- Hero, Warrior/Fighter, Warrior/Fighter, Cleric
- Hero, Cleric, Mage, Mage
- Hero, Warrior/Fighter, Thief/Dealer, Cleric

Choose a team that makes you happy. Just keep a few things in mind:

1. At level 20, your characters (with the exception of the Hero) can change their Job Classes at the Dharma Temple. This lets you start with a standard team and then later on experiment with some of the stranger classes, such as Jester and Dealer.
2. Jesters and Dealers may seem like a lot of fun, but their talents are wasted in the beginning. Stick with the basics at the start.
3. Sages are the ultimate spell casters. As a result, any character that tries to become one needs training—and the Zen Scroll—first. You cannot create a Sage from scratch at Ruida's Tavern.

CHANGING JOB CLASSES AT THE DHARMA TEMPLE

North of Baharata Cave is the Dharma Temple, where you can change the classes of your companions if they've reached L20 or beyond. Changing classes can be very beneficial.

Here's how it works: First, check your character's personality for conflicts (you can change your character's personality afterward using books, etc.). Then, talk to the sage and choose which character's Job Class you want to change. Your character's stats are then halved and he or she starts the new job class at L1. Any spells that character may have learned in his or her previous class are retained.

The loss of stats and levels may sound like a major sacrifice, but if you've bred and trained monsters in Dragon Warrior Monsters, you know better. When you change a character's class, you end up with a L1 character that is stronger than any one you could generate at Ruida's Tavern.

A character with a new Job Class has better stats than a generated character. If you decide to change the Job Class of a L20 Warrior whose STR and VIT stats are at 120 and 104 respectively, he starts training for his new class with 50 percent of those stats (his STR and VIT become 60 and 52 respectively). These stats translate into a good HP base, etc. As this character levels up, his stats continue to increase and when he reaches L20 in his new class, he'll be roughly twice as powerful as he was originally—and hopefully more talented!

Changing characters' Job Classes also allows them to learn different types of skills. For example, change your Mage into a Warrior to end up with a strong fighter who can cast powerful spells. Change your Warrior into a Mage and you get a spell caster who packs quite a wallop with that staff. Turn your Thief into a Fighter and you get a character with extremely high agility who almost always attacks first and has an uncanny ability to get critical hits in almost every battle. The possibilities are endless.

Plus, your newly classed character can wear the best armor and use the best available weapons, which enables him or her to function somewhat normally against the monsters in the Dharma Temple area. However, any performance deficits will be quickly erased when your new character reaches L10 in about five or six battles. Remember, the monsters here deal out a lot more experience points than the ones around Aliahan when you were at L1. Your newly classed character gains levels quickly and soon becomes a fully functioning member of your team again—but at a much lower level!

CREATING A SAGE

The Sage is a special Job Class that is not available at the start of the game. You cannot create one at Ruida's Tavern, but you can turn one of your teammates into a Sage with a little diligence and hard work.

The Jester is the only Job Class that can turn into a Sage without any outside help. When you take your L20 Jester to the sage in the Dharma Temple, the Sage option automatically appears on the Job Class list. You need the Zen Scroll, which is found in the Garuna Tower north of the Dharma Temple, to change any other character into a Sage.

- ▲ To turn a character into a Sage using the Zen Scroll, have the character hold the book in his or her inventory. When you ask to change that character's Job Class, you'll find Sage at the bottom of the list.

CLASS CHANGING ADVICE

Here are some things to think about when changing your characters' Job Classes. First, don't change the class of more than two members at a time. Think about it: a team with one L20 character and three L1 characters is not going to survive in the mountains around the Dharma Temple. Until you get your newly classed characters leveled up to about L10, they'll have a hard time getting through most high-level battles alive. If you limit your class changing to one or two members at a time, your strong characters can cover for the weaker characters until they are back up to speed. This should only take 5–10 battles.

Also consider timing. If you are planning to change your Thief's Job Class, wait until he or she learns the final Thief ability, MapMagic, before you visit the Dharma Temple. The same goes for Mages and Clerics. Hold off changing your Cleric's Job Class until after he or she learns the spell Vivify around L24. Mages learn TwinHits around L21 and Boom around L23, and both are good spells to pass on to a new Job Class.

When you change a Mage or Cleric into a Sage, he or she spends the first 20 or so levels learning the spells from the other class. So a Mage turned into a Sage at L20 spends his or her first 20 levels as a Sage learning Cleric spells. Once he or she hits L21, he or she then learns both Mage and Cleric spells. Timing the transition from Mage/Cleric to Sage is vital, because you don't want to have to wait another 20 or more levels before this character learns Vivify or TwinHits!

Finally, consider team composition when planning class changes. Remember to change characters into a class that complements them. The classic combinations are Mage/Cleric to Warrior/Fighter, Mage/Cleric to Sage, and Thief to Dealer. If you are changing two characters at one time, consider changing them into opposite types of classes. For example, changing your Mage/Cleric into a Warrior/Fighter and your Warrior/Fighter into a Mage/Cleric/Sage keeps your team balanced.

THE JOB CLASSES

HERO

The Hero class is restricted only to the child of Ortega—that's you! This Job Class mixes the best of many worlds. Heroes are staunch fighters who can use a wide variety of weapon and armor types. As a result, the Hero is a force to be reckoned with on the battlefield, as he or she is always well defended by armor and wields the strongest weapons. Also, the Hero can cast spells as well as any Mage or Cleric. Heroes learn a wide variety of Cleric and Mage spells, including a few that are unique to the Hero class, such as HealUsAll, Zap, and Thordain. As the leader of your battle party, you'll find the Hero character well prepared to deal with any possibility.

Top Five Personalities

Valiant	Emphasis on STR and VIT make the Hero a great warrior.
Solitary	Emphasis on STR, AGI, VIT, and INT makes the Hero a well-balanced character.
Silly	Increases in AGI and INT make the Hero faster and a better spell caster.
Fearless	Greater emphasis on AGI, VIT, and INT makes the Hero more likely to rush into battle with greater confidence.
Sexy	For the female Hero, this offers the most well-rounded stat increases. Besides, who can resist a sexy girl?

WARRIOR

The Warrior class is for those who value brawn over everything else! Warriors can equip the heaviest and strongest armor and use the most vicious looking swords and axes, making them awesome opponents. However, for all their brawn and vitality most Warriors are fairly slow and often inaccurate, especially as they gain larger and heavier weapons. They can learn neither magic spells nor special skills. Still, their tremendous HP total and plain brute force make them a must for any adventurer's party!

Top Five Personalities

Valiant	Emphasis on STR and VIT makes for a great Warrior.
Amazon	Increases in STR create the ultimate female Warrior.
Quick	Higher emphasis on AGL causes your Warrior to be fast and strong!
Alert	Raises in INT and AGL make your Warrior smart and fast.
Lucky	Increases your Warrior's AGL and LUCK.

FIGHTER

Fighters are more refined versions of the brutal Warrior. These lithe fighting men and women are martial arts masters who use their tremendous speed and agility to deliver punishing, and often critical, blows to the enemy. These characters also have strength on their side, boasting a higher starting base STR stat than even a Warrior. However there is a trade-off for all that power. Fighters cannot equip heavy armor, preferring instead the looser and lighter clothes of a Thief. Fighters prefer Claw-type weapons over the heavier swords and axes of the Warrior.

Top Five Personalities

Tough	Good increases in STR and VIT give your Fighter great strength.
Quick	Emphasis on AGL increases the Fighter's ability to make critical hits.
Valiant	Emphasis on STR and VIT make the Fighter a great warrior.
Jock	Less emphasis on AGL to increase a Fighter's STR.
Solitary	Equal emphasis on STR, AGL, VIT, and INT.

MAGE

The Mage is the diametric opposite of the Warrior. The Warrior exemplifies the power of brawn while the Mage is the paragon of intelligence, preferring to use intellect to overcome the enemy. Mages cast powerful spells that can destroy the enemy in a single blast or protect the rest of the party. When used well, their magic makes up for their physical frailty. As a fighter, the Mage is pretty useless because of a low strength rating and the inability to use most bladed weapons. Even the most powerful staff is weak when used to bop monsters over the head. On the other hand, the Mage's magical power increases with every level gained and every spell learned.

Top Five Personalities

Sharp	Increases in AGI and INT are very complementary and STR boost is nice too.
Fearless	Good increases across the board make this Mage quite powerful.
Silly	Strong increases in STR, AGI, and INT are just what a Mage needs.
Romantic	Extra speed and smarts help a Mage in battle.
Sexy	The strong increases across the board make female Mages extremely powerful.

CLERIC

The Cleric is an interesting class. On the one hand, Clerics are stronger and more durable than Mages, making them good combat partners in a pinch. However, their increased physical power is a trade-off for their lack of big attack magic. Clerics are healers, which is reflected in their repertoire of spells. If you like your spell casters to heal your team and use support spells to protect them, then Clerics are the class for you. If you want a spell caster who can blow away a group of monsters with a single spell, then choose a Mage. Still, there's much to be said for the Clerics' healing and resurrection abilities.

Top Five Personalities

Sharp	Focuses on increasing the Cleric's STR, AGI, and INT.
Lewd	Similar to the Sexy personality, this provides the male Cleric with well-balanced raises.
Lucky	Really powers up the Cleric's LUCK, while keeping the other stats healthy.
Kindly	Focuses its increases on STR, VIT, and INT.
Sexy	Turns any female Cleric into a powerhouse!

THIEF

If you are into treasure hunting, then the Thief is the character for you! These nimble-fingered men and women are experts at exploring, and their abilities can help you find treasures hidden in dungeons or other buildings. Their increased agility also makes them swift fighters. While their choice of weapons and armor is limited, they do a lot with what they can use. Give a Thief a whip and the results in battle will leave you grinning from ear to ear! Thieves can also steal items from monsters in the midst of battle, adding stray herbs and even weapons and armor to your inventory.

Top Five Personalities

Solitary	Good increases in all stats except for LUCK.
Fearless	Good increases for all stats except STR.
Jock	Strengthens the Thief in battle.
Quick	Offers major increases to the Thief's AGL.
Sexy	Strong increases across the board for a female Thief.

DEALER

If you aren't earning enough gold, consider taking a Dealer along with you. Dealers are a strange class of merchants who are utterly fearless in their pursuit of rare items and good deals. They have the unique ability to appraise your items using the Show command on the Item menu. Show a Dealer any of your weapons, armor, or other equipment and he or she can tell you what it is, what it can do, who can use it, what it's worth, and whether or not it's cursed. In the later dungeons, this skill comes in handy! In addition, Dealers aren't bad fighters. They have average stats and can use a variety of weapon and armor types, including armored aprons and staffs made out of the mighty abacus. Consider changing over to this class later in the game.

Top Five Personalities

Alert	Offers good growth of the Dealer's AGL and INT.
Sharp	Ups both the Dealer's INT and AGL.
Ironman	Increases the Dealer's power in battle.
Silly	Increases the Dealer's AGL, INT, and LUCK.
Lucky	A Dealer can always use more LUCK!

JESTER

The Jesters are a funny class. They love to play games and joke around—even when confronted with a group of salivating, sharp-toothed monsters. Their desire to play often conflicts with the needs and desires of the rest of the team, which makes the Jester a liability at times. However, they are the only class that can use some of the more outlandish clothes, such as Flashy Clothes. They're also limited in what they can wear and what weapons they can use. You can only hope that as they level up, the games they learn become more hazardous to the enemy!

SAGE

Sages combine the best of the Mage and Cleric classes, but are packaged in a much stronger body. Unlike Mages, the Sage can use more protective armor and equip better weapons, including powerful swords such as the Dragon Sword. Unlike Clerics, Sages can cast powerful offensive spells that are usually limited to Mages. These talents make Sages the best spell casters to have in your party. It's highly recommended that you acquire the Zen Scroll from Garuna Tower to create one as soon as you have a character ready to change classes.

NOTE Because the Sage cannot be created from scratch at Ruida's Tavern, there are no base stats for the class.

Top Five Personalities

Sharp	Raises STR, AGL, and INT.
Smart	Focuses on raising the Sage's INT.
Solitary	Strong increases for all stats except for LUCK.
Alert	Strong increases in AGL and INT to balance out any Warriors-turned-Sage.
Sexy	Balances out the stats of a female Sage.

PLAYING DRAGON WARRIOR III

This chapter covers most of the conventions used in the game, whether you are exploring a city, navigating the World Map, or battling monsters in dungeons.

CITY LIFE

The villages and towns of Dragon Warrior III are filled with items to buy, treasures to find, and more importantly, people to talk to. Whenever you first enter a city, make it a habit to explore it thoroughly by talking to everyone and checking out every building. If you visit during the day, follow up with a visit during the night. You'll be amazed by how many things change after the sun sets.

MEMORIZING CONVERSATIONS

The Hero can memorize important conversations and then recall them at a later date. To memorize a conversation, press [SELECT] at the end of the speech.

▶ Press [SELECT] at the end of the conversation, before you enter any other command.

The number of conversations the Hero can remember increases as he or she levels up and learns more recollection spells. To recall a speech, have the Hero cast one of the following recollection spells, then scroll through what the Hero has remembered until you reach the conversation you're looking for.

▶ The conversations that the Hero has remembered are played in reverse order, so you can access recently recorded speeches first.

To clear out the Hero's memory banks, simply cast Forget, then erase any speeches that the Hero no longer needs to remember.

RECOLLECTION SPELLS

Spell	Number of speeches recorded	Level Learned
Recall	Records up to 3 speeches.	L1
Remember	Records up to 10 speeches.	L8
Recollect	Records up to 32 speeches.	L20

◀ Use the +Control Pad to scroll through the "pages" of memorized speeches.

INVESTIGATING YOUR ENVIRONMENT ... AND BEING A NOSY SNOOP!

In Dragon Warrior III you are encouraged to break into people's houses and rummage through their belongings to look for things that will help you in your quest. After all, you are a Hero on a sacred quest to save the world from evil, and people like helping you out with whatever they can!

Regardless of your personal feelings on the subject, some items can be acquired only in this manner. For example, the books and scrolls that enable you to change personalities are almost always found in the bookcases of private citizens. If you want to change personalities, you have to snoop in people's bookcases. Also, Tokens for the Pachisi Tracks are more likely to be found in the dressers and vases of the townsfolk than anywhere else. Outlandish clothes with incredible defense values are also more likely to be hidden in people's dressers than in treasure chests in a dark, dank cave. So be sure to look everywhere!

▲ Search all these items in your hunt for treasures.

Of course, you can expect locked doors to bar you from certain rooms and areas at the start of the game. These barriers are easily overcome after you start collecting keys. Three different keys unlock the various types of doors you'll run into. The Thief Key is the first you'll uncover, and it unlocks the red locked doors. The Magic Key, which is hidden deep in the desert, works on all of the simple gray doors. The Final Key unlocks elaborate doors such as Jail Cells, etc. Part of your quest to defeat Baramos and the Demon Lord involves gathering these keys. Then, simply remember where all of those locked doors were!

◀ This is a normal door. They are always unlocked and do not require a key.

◀ This door requires the Thief Key to open.

◀ This door requires the Magic Key to open.

◀ This door requires the Final Key to open.

TOWN FACILITIES

Each town or village contains a variety of services designed to make your adventuring more comfortable. The following is a list of the basic services and what they provide.

Inn

Almost every town or village in Dragon Warrior III has an Inn in which you can sleep and recover both HP and MP. Regardless of the time you enter the city and go to sleep at the Inn, you always awaken at daybreak. Keep this in mind if you need to see certain events that only happen at night.

Weapon and Armor Shop

Most towns and villages in Dragon Warrior III feature at least one Weapon and Armor Shop. Here you can outfit your party in the latest and greatest equipment and sell off excess or unnecessary items. Part of the shop's service is to tell you which items your party members can or cannot use, so look at the bottom of the screen whenever you examine an item.

Item Shop

Head to the Item Shop for the latest in herbs and potions. Every once in a while you find an Item Shop that also sells weapons, armor, and other pieces of unusual equipment. You can sell unnecessary items here too.

Temple

Go to a Temple if one of your teammates is Cursed, Poisoned, or Dead. For a fee (the amount varies based on the situation), the Temple priests will use their divine powers to cure your party. Their services are unfortunately limited to Uncurse, De-Tox, and Revive.

The Gold Bank

The only Gold Bank in Dragon Warrior III is in Ruida's Tavern in Aliahan. Here you can save your hard-earned gold in increments of 1,000G, which is both a blessing and a curse. If your party is entirely wiped out in battle and the King brings you back to life, you lose half your gold. Depositing your excess gold in the Gold Bank before exploring uncharted areas and dungeons is a good habit to get into. On the other hand, if you need that money to buy new weapons and armor, you have to travel back to Aliahan to get it. However, the inconvenience is worth it!

Kings

You can tell when you've reached a major town by the presence of a Castle and a King (or Queen). Talk to a King (or his attendant in some cases) to find out your party's current experience level and save your progress. This is the only permanent way to save your progress, so keep track of the closest town with a King wherever your journey takes you.

Field Logs Vs. Saving

Pressing START in most locations brings up the Field Log menu and allows you to temporarily save your game. This save disappears after you've restarted the game from the Field Log. So, if something bad happens after that save point and you want to restart the game, you can't do it from that point. Field Log saves are useful if you need to interrupt your game for a short time and are not concerned about your party's current situation. They aren't recommended for situations where your party's life may hang in the balance (e.g., before Boss battles or in difficult dungeons).

NAVIGATING THE WORLD MAP

Part of the fun of adventuring is exploring new worlds and discovering new towns, villages, and dungeons. In Dragon Warrior III, you have three modes of transportation: your feet, a ship, and a bird named Lamia. For the first half of the game you are limited to traveling across the world on foot. This promotes leveling up your party and lets you explore the World Map more closely.

◀ Besides basic smooth green grass, these terrain types are also safe for travelers to cross.

◀ These purple spots of swampland are poisonous to walking adventurers. Cast StepGuard to protect your party when traveling through these areas.

◀ Blue water is the only thing a ship can pass over.

◀ Bridges and shoals are the only barriers to your sea-faring explorations.

After you've collected the six Orbs and brought them to the shrine on Leiamland, you add Lamia to your modes of transportation. Use Lamia to fly over the final obstacle: mountains.

Both Lamia and your ship travel with you when you use the Return spell. However, if you travel to a town that is not located on the seashore, you'll find the ship on the closest shore.

TOWNS, VILLAGES, CASTLES, AND DUNGEONS

As you travel through the worlds of Dragon Warrior III, you run into a variety of places that you can enter and explore. In addition to Castles, towns, and villages, you can also explore the insides of caves, towers, and shrines.

◀ Castle: When you see this icon, you can find a King or Queen with whom you can save your progress. Many Castles also feature bustling cities at their feet.

◀ Town: Towns are only slightly smaller outposts of humanity than Castles. In fact, the only difference is the lack of a Castle and a King.

◀ Village: This is the smaller version of a town. You can expect to find more rustic amenities here and fewer people to talk to. Villages, however, can be great sources for gossip!

◀ Shrine: You never know what you'll find inside shrines. Traveler's Gates, Inns, small cities, and Pachisi Tracks are only a few of the possibilities.

◀ Tower: Several towers in Dragon Warrior III play a large role in your quest. Be sure to explore every one of them!

◀ Cave: Should you decide to enter one of these caves, come prepared to fight! Caves mark the entrance to the majority of dungeon locations.

OTHER METHODS OF TRANSPORTATION

You can teleport your party from the places you've already visited using the Return spell. This spell whisks you away from your current location and drops you off outside of the city or village of your choice. You can use this spell anywhere, including on the World Map, in towns, or at Castles, etc. However, a couple of towns don't appear on your Return list. You always have to travel to those locations using normal means.

Where	turn
Aliahan	tside
Reeve	pel
Romaly	call
Kazave	member
Noaniels	1+ly to a
town or castle visited before.

◀ The Return list shows only towns that you've previously visited.

You reach some locations using Traveler's Gates. These Gates are hidden in shrines, usually behind ▶ Traveler's Gates instantly whisk you from one location to another.

THE MAGIC MAP

When you get the Magic Map, you can call up an image of the World Map just by pressing (START). When you first acquire the Magic Map, not much of the World Map is colored in. As you travel through each region, more of the map is revealed. Make it your business to uncover all of the areas on the World Map.

▲ A completed World Map. The flashing dots mark important locations including towns and dungeons.

◀ After you get the ship, use the Magic Map to locate it should you lose it.

DUNGEON EXPLORATION

Part of your job as a Hero is to explore and clean out certain dungeons. Most of the conventions used in dungeons are identical to those used in cities or Castles. Traveler's Gates, treasure chests, locked doors, etc. all look the same regardless of where they appear.

This guide provides maps for all the major dungeons. Use these maps to find all of the treasures inside as well as the best paths through the dungeons themselves. If you decide to travel through these caves and towers without any aid, you should know about some spells.

▶ Outside: When you cast this spell, your party is returned to the outside of the dungeon. This does not work in dungeons where magic has been sealed off.

▶ Repel, Tiptoe, and Repellent: If you get tired of battling monsters or want to conserve your strength before fighting the Boss, you can use these to reduce your encounters with monsters. You cannot cast Repel in dungeons where magic has been sealed off. You can, however, cast Tiptoe and use Repellent in those situations.

▶ StepGuard: Use this to protect your party from damage caused by poisoned swamp patches or electrified fields.

▶ Location: This spell determines which dungeon floor your party is currently located.

 Smell: This spell indicates how many chest and hidden treasures are left on a dungeon floor.

 YellHelp: Use this spell to summon a shopkeeper, innkeeper, or priest when you are most in need.

BATTLING MONSTERS

Throughout the game you encounter many monsters spoiling for a fight. If you can defeat the monsters in battle, you gain money, experience points, and often stray items. If you lose, the King of Aliahan resurrects your party at his Castle—at the cost of half of your gold.

When you are challenged by monsters, you have six options: Fight, Cast, Parry, Item, Eqpt, and Run.

Fight Attack the monsters with your current weapon. The number of enemies you can target depends on the weapon you have equipped.

Cast Cast magic spells on the enemy or your own party members. The number of targets depends upon the spell cast.

Parry Make a character take up a defensive position to minimize any damage he or she might take.

Item Use an item currently in your character's personal inventory. Remember, some weapons and pieces of equipment can be used as items to cast powerful spells.

Eqpt Allows your character to automatically change his or her equipped items. The change takes effect immediately and he or she can still attack during that round.

Run Flee from battle. Be aware that it may not always be successful.

AT THE END OF BATTLE

When you defeat a group of monsters, the experience points earned are split between all living characters in your party. In addition to experience points, your party also earns gold and possibly items or Monster Medals.

Thief and Dealer characters can increase your prizes at the end of a battle. Thieves steal items from monsters and Dealers increase the gold earned at the end of a battle just by being there.

MONSTER MEDALS

At the end of a battle, there's chance that you'll earn a Monster Medal from the last monster defeated. These medals come in Bronze, Silver, and Gold. You can only earn a Silver medal if you currently have that monster's Bronze medal and you can only earn a Gold medal if you have that monster's Silver medal. There is no way to guarantee what kind of medal you'll get, or if you'll get one at all.

It takes a lot of time and patience to collect all of the Monster Medals (more than 150). To complete your set, you can trade with friends or even with a certain character you find only after you've completed the game. What all of these medals are for is anyone's guess. Collect them all to find out!

STATUS ANOMALIES

Some monsters can cast spells that affect your characters' health. These effects are called Status Anomalies and include conditions such as Poison, Paralysis, Curse, Confusion, and Death.

HEALING STATUS ANOMALIES

Status Anomaly	Effects	How to Heal
Confusion	A confused character fights randomly and may hurt his or her companions.	To cure, hit the confused character in battle. Confusion wears off at the end of the battle.
Curse	Causes misfortune to befall the character in various forms afflicting his or her status.	Cast CurseOff to heal the characters or take them to a Temple in a nearby town.
Death	This happens when your character's HP reach 0.	Use the World Leaf item or cast Vivify or Revive to resurrect your fallen friend.
Fog	Lowers a character's accuracy and may prevent him or her from hitting the enemy.	Fog wears off during battle or afterward.
Paralysis	Prevents the afflicted character from moving and participating in battle. If all party members become Paralyzed, you lose the battle.	Use a Moon Herb item or the spell NumbOff. Paralysis wears off at the end of the battle.
Poison	While poisoned, a character takes damage with every step.	Use the Antidote item or spell to cure this malady.
Sleep	Puts the character to sleep.	Cast Awaken to cure this condition. Sleep usually wears off at the end of battle, but may wear off during battle.

A WALK THROUGH THE WORLDS OF DRAGON WARRIOR III

The story of Dragon Warrior III spans two worlds. In the first part of the game, you search for your father, who left to pursue the evil demon Baramos around the time of your birth. As you travel through the many kingdoms persecuted by Baramos' evil in search of the demon, you learn about your father's bravery and the story of his quest. However, defeating Baramos is only the first part of your quest, as you'll find once you've defeated him. To clear the world of evil, you must follow in your father's footsteps and enter a new world filled with challenges.

Our walkthrough is divided into two parts. First is the game walkthrough in outline format. Each quest is broken up into components; check off each step as you complete it. Second, for more detailed information about each location, turn to the section that follows for maps, monster data, treasure data, and other information.

We encourage you to explore the world on your own or in addition to the walkthrough so that you can enjoy all that Dragon Warrior III offers.

AN INTERRUPTED CELEBRATION57. Aliahan*58. Empress Castle

- ☐ Talk to the Queen of the Dragons.
- ☐ Get the Light Orb.

59. Giana Pit

- ☐ Hop into the Pit and travel into the Dark World.

* You must have visited the town when the citizens were planning their mutiny to trigger this event.

PART TWO: THE HUNT FOR ZOMA THE DEMON LORD

If the Dark World looks familiar to you, it's because it is Alefgard, the world of Dragon Warrior II. The events of Dragon Warrior III take place a couple of generations before those of Dragon Warrior I, so you'll notice many similarities between the two versions of Alefgard.

60. Tantegel Jetty

- ☐ Get the Ship.

61. Tantegel City

- ☐ Talk to the King and the townspeople to learn about the Demon Lord Zoma and the tools you need to defeat him.
- ☐ Talk to Kandar in the Church about the Sun Stone.
- ☐ Get the Sun Stone from the room above the Castle Kitchen.

62. Rocky Cave

- ☐ Gather experience points.

63. Domdora Village

- ☐ Talk to the townspeople to learn about the power of the Light Orb, the location of the Pixy Flute, and the hiding place of the Oricon.
- ☐ Find the Oricon in the horse's paddock.

64. Mercado

- ☐ Talk to the Priest to learn about the items needed to get the Rainbow Drop.
- ☐ Talk to Garin the Bard to learn about the Shiny Harp.

65. Spirit Shrine

- ☐ Get the Rain Staff from Rubiss's attendant.

66. Garin's House

- ☐ Search Floor around the treasure chest in the basement to get the Shiny Harp.

67. Nail Mark

- ☐ Get the Hero Shield.

68. Kol

- ☐ Sell the Oricon to the craftsman in the Item Shop.
- ☐ Leave the city and return. Buy the King's Sword from the Item Shop.
- ☐ Search the grass to the south of the Baths to get the Pixy Flute.

69. Rubiss Tower

- ☐ Get the Light Armor from the chest on Floor 4.
- ☐ Find Rubiss Tower's back door.
- ☐ Play the Pixy Flute in front of the Rubiss statue on Floor 5. Get the Crest.

70. Sacred Shrine

- ☐ Present the Sun Stone, Rain Staff, and Crest to get the Rainbow Drop.

71. Rimuldar

- ☐ Learn about the hidden door in Zoma's throne room.

72. Peninsula to the Northwest of Rimuldar

- ☐ Use the Rainbow Drop to create a bridge to Zoma's Castle.

73. Zoma's Castle

- ☐ Defeat Zoma and his henchmen.

ALIAHAN AND ALIAHAN CASTLE

This fair city is where your journey starts. Aliahan is your base for the first part of the game, so get to know its facilities well. If you need rest, visit your mother for a free evening's room and board. In Ruida's Tavern, you find people who help you create and recruit party members. It also contains a Bank in which you can store your hard-won gold. When you are far from home, remember that Aliahan is only a Return spell away!

Nosiness Does Pay!

In the homes and stores of Aliahan, you can find many items just by searching through dressers, vases, barrels, hanging sacks, and bookcases. Here are some of the items you can find in Aliahan City.

Item	Location
STRSeed	Dresser in Hero's Home
5G	Dresser in Hero's Home
Herb	Barrel in Hero's Home
TinyMedal	Dresser in southeast Home
25G	Barrel by Ruida's Tavern

Home Sweet Home

Night and day, your mother waits for you at home so that she can take care of you and your friends. If you need a free place to spend the night, go home!

Ruida's Tavern

Ruida's Tavern is the only place you can create, recruit, and dismiss team members. More important, perhaps, is the presence of a Bank. There you can deposit and withdraw your money in increments of 1,000G. Although this may not seem important at the start of the game (when 1,000G is a lot of money), the Bank is a handy later on when the rewards—and the dangers—are higher. Funds deposited in the Bank cannot be halved should your party succumb to monsters!

At the Bottom of the Well

Examine the well to climb into it. At the bottom is the house of the TinyMedal man. This citizen collects TinyMedals and you can cash yours in for rare items. TinyMedals are all over the worlds in treasure chests and other explorable containers.

The Importance of Kings

Kings and Queens play an important role. They give you information about areas or ask you to perform quests. They also can tell you how many experience points are required for each of your teammates to level up, and give you the opportunity to save your game and quit. Whenever you enter a city with a Castle, pay the royalty a visit!

Bakota and the Thief Key

Your first quest is to find the Thief Key. This key lets you open all red doors. Bakota, the key's inventor, is locked up in the Castle basement Jail. Visit him for information on the Thief Key's whereabouts.

PROMONTORY CAVE

Promontory Cave is a tunnel that leads beneath the ocean to Najimi Tower. It provides an excellent introduction to dungeon crawling because it's simply laid out and infested with the easiest monsters. However, you'll find this experience much enhanced if your characters enter at L5 or higher. At this point, Hero should have learned the Heal spell, which comes in handy if you don't have a Cleric and don't want to buy lots of Herbs.

NAJIMI TOWER

Najimi Tower is on an island directly west of Aliahan—so close you can see it from the shores. Unfortunately, without a ship you must find another entrance. The tower is infested with more difficult monsters than those in Promontory Cave. Fortunately, there's a handy Inn off Floor 1 of the tower. Use it before you ascend to the Fourth Floor, where you'll find the old coot who took Bakota's Thief Key.

◀ Aliahan Castle entrance

Najimi Tower has many entrances. It's on an island west of Aliahan, and because you don't have a ship, you have to find one of its entrances to get the Thief Key from the old man inside. The most well-known entrance to Najimi Tower is through Promontory Cave, but another entrance is more direct. In the forest south of Reeve, look for a clearing. Enter the clearing to find a stairwell leading down into the earth. This puts you in the northeast corner of the tower's basement.

Thoroughly explore Basement 1 in the tower to discover a third way into the tower via the Jail Cells of Aliahan Castle. You need the Thief Key to use this shortcut, so remember it after you find the old coot on the tower's Floor 4.

Hero obtained the Thief Key!

THE THIEF KEY

The ultimate goal of this journey is to obtain the Thief Key. To get it, survive the journey to the top of the tower and ask the man there about the Thief Key. You won't find a Boss battle here!

REEVE

The village of Reeve, north of Aliahan, makes a good base while you level up your characters in dangerous woods and mountains to the east. While visiting, talk to the inhabitants about a Magic Bomb. One of the residents is rumored to be researching such an item. It might come in handy as you search for the long-lost Traveler's Gate.

THE MAGIC BOMB

With the Thief Key, further explore Aliahan Castle. In one of the rooms you can now unlock, you meet a man who tells you of a Magic Bomb that you can use to access the Traveler's Gate to the other continents. He also tells you that the bomb maker lives in Reeve. Go to Reeve and talk to the man in the house in the northeast corner. He'll give you a Magic Bomb!

NOTE

Before heading to Tempt Cave, outfit your team with the best armor and weapons they can use. The Sickle is a great weapon that most party members can use. The Turtle Armor is a must for a Mage.

TEMPT CAVE

The appearance of Baramos led the people of Aliahan to seal up the Traveler's Gate in Tempt Cave to prevent the further infestation of evil beings on their island. You must break the seal to travel any farther, and for that you need the Magic Bomb. Once the seal is broken, travel deep into this cave to find the hallway that contains the locked door to the Traveler's Gate.

PINPOINTING THE SEALED WALL

After you've blasted your way through the sealed wall, grab the Magic Map from the chest by the stairwell. Press SELECT to use this item whenever you are traveling outside in the field. It shows your current location and the locations of other cities and dungeons you've visited.

ROMALY AND ROMALY CASTLE

Romaly is north of the Tempt Cave Traveler's Gate. When you arrive, visit the King in his Castle (the throne room is on Floor 2). Also, Romaly has a Monster Stadium.

A Visit to the King

When you visit the King, your progress is saved and you get your next quest. The notorious bandit, Kandar, stole the King's Golden Crown. Talk to the citizens of Romaly to learn the latest gossip regarding Kandar's hideout. Recover the Golden Crown and return it to the King to be amply rewarded.

After the Golden Crown's Returned....

When you return the Golden Crown to the King of Romaly, he makes you the King or Queen! While it's fun to wander around town and see the townspeople's looks of surprise and amazement, you still have a job to do. Find the old King in the Monster Stadium. Give him back the Crown to go!

KAZAVE

Kazave is a small village in the mountains a day's journey north of Romaly. The people in Kazave have information about both Kandar and a strange situation in nearby Noaniels in the northwest, so talk to them all.

THE POISON NEEDLE

A man standing in the middle of town tells you about a neat weapon called the Poison Needle. The Item Shop once carried it, but not anymore. However, you can sneak into the owner's house at night to find one!

A HIDDEN ENTRANCE

When you enter the building in the northeast corner of town, you see a staircase in the darkness. To get to that staircase and find out what's upstairs, walk behind the house as shown in the screenshot here. Look for a Fur Hood in one of the dressers!

SHAMPANE TOWER

Shampagne Tower is Kandar's current hideout and where you must go to recover the Golden Crown. This six-story tower is not for the faint of heart. All of your party members should be at L13 or higher. At the top of the tower you face Kandar and his Goons. This is your first Boss battle, so be ready.

FINDING THE GOLDEN CROWN

When you get to Floor 5 of Champagne Tower, you run into Kandar's henchmen, who run to inform Kandar upstairs. When you get to Floor 6, Kandar tricks you and you fall down a trapdoor to the room below. If you return to Floor 6, you find Kandar and ※ You've dogged me long enough!

the contents of the two treasure chests gone. Head to Floor 4 to find Kandar and crew waiting for you on the right. Defeat him and he gives you the Golden Crown in return for sparing his life.

Boss: Kandar and his Goons

Kandar is very tough to defeat, especially because you have to deal with his three Goons at the same time. Kandar has a high attack rating, so use Increase several times to build your party's defense. Take out the Goons first, then work on Kandar. The Goons have only a basic physical attack and 60HP, so your team can defeat them in a couple of rounds. Kandar, on the other hand, can parry attacks and perform a Brutal Hit.

NOANIELS

The town of Noaniels is having a few problems. When you first arrive, almost all of its citizens are sound asleep in their tracks, victims of a curse. Only one citizen remains awake, and his story is very informative. After you break the curse, Noaniels returns to normal and you can use all the facilities. Talk to all of the people in the town to learn about your father's whereabouts!

THE CURSE

Look for a small house in the southwest corner of the town. Upstairs is the only awake Noaniels resident. Talk to him to learn that the Elf Queen cursed the town after the disappearance of an artifact called the Dream Ruby. If you can find the Dream Ruby, you can get the antidote from the Elf Queen and return things to normal.

* Travelers,
please help me!

Until you complete the Dream Ruby quest and get the Wake Dust, you cannot use the village's Inn. You must return to Kazave to rest and heal.

ELVENHAM

Elvenham is a tiny village of elves hidden in the forest northwest of Noaniels. The entrance is a bald patch in the middle of a forested area. Elves are not very friendly toward humans, and after the Dream Ruby incident, they are even less friendly. The woman at the Item Shop will not even sell to humans!

THE WHOLE STORY

To learn the whole story surrounding the theft of the Dream Ruby and the curse of Noaniels, talk to two people: the Elf Queen and the father of the human who ran off with the elf princess. Both tell you of the tragic love between the human and the elf princess, Ann. They eloped one night and took the Dream Ruby with them.

You have to recover that Dream Ruby!

THE ITEM SHOP

To purchase items at the Elvenham Item Shop (buy as many Wizard's Rings as possible), you need the Change Staff. This item, found later in the game, changes you into different species. Find a species the woman at the Item Shop will trade with.

NOANIELS CAVE

Noaniels Cave, near Elvenham, is a vast system of tunnels. It's large and twisted, so use the maps provided to avoid getting lost. A nice feature of Noaniels Cave is the healing shrine in Basement 2-1. Step on the tiles and your party emerges healed. To find the Dream

Ruby, head to Basement 4 and open the chest amid the pillars.

◀ Basement 3-2

▼ Basement 4

After you pull the Dream Ruby from its chest, read the note explaining about the elopement of the boy and the elf princess. When you return the Dream Ruby to the Elf Queen, tell her about the note and its contents. The combination guarantees you the Wake Dust needed to save Noaniels.

There was a note inside the chest!

WAKING THE TOWN

Hero shook out the Wake Dust.

After you return the Dream Ruby to the Elf Queen and smooth things over, take the Wake Dust she gives you to the town. To use the Wake Dust, open your inventory and use the item.

ASHALAM

Ashalam, a large town east of Romaly Castle, is home to the fiercest merchants in the land. Some of them have incredible items that you must have! Unfortunately, they also have high prices. Haggling is the name of the game in this town. Visit Ashalam during both day and night to experience everything. Look for people who can tell you about the Magic Key!

HAGGLING

Dealers looking to gouge their customers run two of the five shops in Ashalam. Haggle with them to get a more reasonable price. That price will be high, so be careful what you set your sights on. You may find it in another town for much less!

THE BLOCKED PASSAGE

Norud the Hobbit lives in a small cave east of the city. You learn in Ashalam that only Norud can lead people through the tunnel to the other side of the mountains. Unfortunately, Norud is not friendly toward you and refuses to help. Rumor has it, though, that Norud is friendly with the King of Portuga....

Seek the Starry Bracelet

As you enter the palace grounds, head left to find an alternate way to enter the Castle. Explore the hallway around the Castle's Floor 1 to find treasure. Deep below the palace grounds you'll find a chest containing the Starry Bracelet, which doubles the wearer's AGL. Be honest with the spirit that once owned it!

The Nursery Rhyme

The key to the Pyramid is hidden in the words of a child's Nursery Rhyme. Talk to the children in the Castle Nursery to the right of the Queen's throne and memorize this song.

The Queen's Gift

If you visit the Queen in her chambers at night with the Magic Key, she gives you a helpful present. Follow her instructions and search the tiles around her bed to find a Wizard's Ring!

PYRAMID

North of Isis is the Pyramid, burial place of the Pharaohs and a favorite target of thieves. If you listened carefully to the people of Isis, you know to look out for traps or other nasty surprises. The Magic Key is in a sealed room on Floor 3. You must solve a puzzle to open the door. With the Magic Key, loot the treasure chambers on Floors 4 and 5 before jumping off the top of the Pyramid to make your way home. Beware of the basement, though. It is an evil place where magic usage is not permitted. If you explore that area, bring strong weapons and plenty of Herbs!

BEWARE OF TRAPS!

Floor 1 of the Pyramid is dangerous for first-time travelers. The tiles at the center of paths that intersect with the main hallway give way whenever someone steps on them. Should you fall prey to the trap, you end up in the Pyramid's Basement. Fight your way to the exit and start over.

THE BUTTON SEQUENCE

When you get to Floor 3, check for a series of buttons on the southern walls of the rooms to the east and west of the staircase. To open the chamber containing the Magic Key, press the buttons on the wall in the order given in the Nursery Rhyme. The correct order is: East Room, West Button; West Room, East Button; West Room, West Button; East Room, East Button.

WELL-GUARDED CHESTS

The chests on Floor 4 are guarded by four MummyMen per chest. Defeat the guards to get the treasures.

THE SECRET CHAMBER

Examine the floor of the Pyramid's basement to uncover stairs leading to another chamber. In the sarcophagus there is a magical weapon called the Golden Claw. Unfortunately, after you steal this item, a curse is activated and you can't leave the tomb without battling monsters at every step. And, because you are in the basement of the Pyramid, you can't use any magic (including healing). The only way to lift the curse is to throw away the Golden Claw while in the Pyramid. If you sell the Claw and return to the Pyramid later, you still will be cursed and monsters will plague you with every step you take.

Wait to take the claw until later in the game when your characters are better equipped and more experienced. Then the battles won't be as overwhelming and your characters will be more likely to outlast your supply of Herbs. The Golden Claw's value depends upon your team strategy. After you've taken it out of the Pyramid, the curse disappears and it becomes one of the best weapons for a Fighter. If you don't think you'll ever have a Fighter in your party, sell it for 6,000G—a paltry sum for the trouble.

PORTOGA AND PORTOGA CASTLE

Portoga Castle is west of Romaly, on the opposite side of a magically locked bridge. To access Portoga you must have the Magic Key! After you enter the city, you find a disheartened group of people. In this town, lovers have been cursed, and everyone is desperate for Pepper, especially the King. In fact, he's willing to trade a ship for a bag of the stuff! Help him out.

THE CURSED LOVERS

Many citizens of Portoga are up in arms over the lovers that Baramos cursed, and you hear this story over and over. If you visit the city after defeating Baramos, the lovers have been reunited and they owe it all to you. For your derring-do, they give you the rare Seduce Sword.

THE KING'S PEPPER

The King is in dire need of some Pepper. Pepper is found only in Baharata, far to the east, and no one will go there because the land has been filled with monsters since Baramos' appearance. The King is so desperate that he is willing to trade a ship for a bag of Pepper. Agree to undertake the task to get a letter of introduction for Norud the Hobbit. Bring the letter to Norud and he will guide you through the mountains between Ashalam and Baharata.

NOTE While the King sulks about his lack of Pepper, his Duke has taken over his duties. Talk to him to save your game.

BAHARATA

Baharata is a small village far to the east beyond the mountains. To get here you need the help of an experienced guide, such as Norud the Hobbit, a friend of the King of Portoga. After you arrive, you'll find the Pepper Shop closed because the owner's daughter, Tania, has been kidnapped. To get the Pepper, rescue Tania from the clutches of Kandari!

As soon as you learn about the kidnapping, head south of town to offer what aid you can. Tania's father is glad to have such hardy adventurers to rescue his daughter. Unfortunately, Tania's fiancé Gupta is also anxious to be a part of the rescue, and he rushes ahead of you. Your job now is to rescue both Tania and the foolhardy Gupta from Kandar's clutches!

THE REWARD!

When you return to Baharata after defeating Kandar, stop by the Pepper Shop to get a free bag of Pepper. Return to Portoga and claim your prize! With the ship, you can travel anywhere.

BAHARATA CAVE

To get to Baharata Cave from Baharata Region, go east over the bridge, then north until you reach another bridge. The cave lies to the west, you can see it from the bridge. Inside is a confusing crypt. To get to Kandar's latest hideout, find your way through the maze of rooms to the stairs in the southeast corner. Once downstairs, you find Kandar's hideout guarded by four Goons. Defeat them and rescue Gupta and Tania—before Kandar returns!

▼ Basement 1 x 6

FREEING THE PRISONERS

To free Gupta and Tania, look on the wall for a switch. Free Gupta and he'll take care of his beloved.

Boss: Kandar and His Goons, Take Two!

In this Boss battle you get to take on Kandar's Goons by themselves. Kandar arrives after you've freed Gupta and Tania. So heal your party after you take out the Goons!

Defeating the Goons is easy. This time around, the Goons know some spells (HealMore and Defense), so cast StopSpell on them early. You can counter Defense with Increase, but the healing is frustrating!

Kandar attacks much the same as before, except now he has a 25 percent chance of throwing a Brutal Hit. Spell casters should cast Increase to augment their party's defensive capacity, and also use healing spells. Fighter-type characters should hit Kandar as hard as they can.

DHARMA TEMPLE

Dharma Temple lies in the mountains north of Baharata and Baharata Cave. Here you can change a party member's Job Class or name, rest, and save your game. Because of its cheap lodging and access to challenging monsters, Dharma Temple is a great place to level up re-classed characters. If you don't find enough challenges, hike north to Garuna Tower, or trek southeast through the mountains to the remote town of Muor.

MAKING CHANGES

Go to Dharma Temple when you want to change something about your current characters. To change a character's Job Class, talk to the sage in the back of the temple (see "Preparing for Adventure" for more information). To change a character's name, talk to the name changer outside to the left of the shrine.

GARUNA TOWER

Garuna Tower lies in the mountainous region north of Dharma Temple. Within it, people meditate while dangerous monsters roam around them. To get to the Zen Scroll on Floor 2, you must solve the secret of the tower's internal Traveler's Gates and find the entrance to the Zen Scroll's chamber. It's a dangerous quest, but being able to change a character into a Sage is worth it!

MUOR

Muor is an out-of-the-way town northwest of Zipangu. To get there, trek across the mountains from Dharma Temple or simply sail up the coast. In Muor, you find more news about your father's adventure. In Muor, Ortega was known as Pokapa, and your resemblance to him causes a great deal of confusion. However, your father left behind a powerful Helm, which you should obtain. Find the youth Popota in the room above the shop and get his permission to take Ortega's Helm with you.

CROSSING THE FISSURE

A large floor fissure blocks your way into the part of Floor 2's room containing the Zen Scroll. To get to the chest with the Zen Scroll, you must get to the wire on Floor 5 and drop from the mid-point of the wire to the ceiling below. Jump down to Floor 3 through the hole in the ceiling and you are a staircase away from obtaining the Zen Scroll.

THE MAGIC SPRING

In Muor, you learn about a magic spring across the sea to the northeast. If you have time, sail over there. The spring is inhabited by a spirit named Aurhea, and if you drop an item into the well you may end up with something better. It is extremely important to be honest with Aurhea!

▲ The spring is northeast of Arp Tower.

TEDANKI

Tedanki is the first stop on your quest to gather the 6 Orbs. This small village is off the beaten path to the south of Portoga. Hug the coastline as you sail south and look for the third river opening, which leads you close to where the village lies. This town is largely under the shadow of Baramos' evil, due to its vicinity to the demon's castle. During the daylight hours, the village is deserted and in ruins. At night, however, the village comes to life. Check everywhere (including the swamp patches) to find information about the Final Key and the Green Orb.

THE GREEN ORB

To get the Green Orb, you must have the Final Key. When you have it, return to the city and investigate the Jail. During the daytime you find a note above a corpse indicating that the person had an Orb and wanted to give it away while he was alive. Return at night (use the Dark Lamp hidden in the shopkeeper's Floor 2 room), and you'll find the prisoner alive and ready to give you the Orb.

LANCEL

The city of Lancel is known for its incredible weapons shop and its gigantic shrine that leads to the Navel of the Earth. Lancel is on a small island directly west of Aliahan. Before you sail there, visit the Gold Bank and withdraw your savings!

THE SLIME AND THE HIDE HERB

Talk to the people in Lancel to learn more about the mysterious Final Key. First you learn that you need a special vase that's hidden in Edinbear Castle. If you sail there right away, you'll find the gates shut to low-class visitors such as yourselves. However, if you heed the words of the Slime and buy a Hide Herb, you'll have little trouble entering the Castle!

EDINBEAR

Edinbear Castle lies on an isolated island east of Noaniels Cave. The residents are as isolated as the island itself. In fact, the guards have orders not to let in anyone unseemly or of low birth. But entering the Castle is only one of the puzzles. The Dry Vase, needed to get the Final Key, is in a room guarded by a fiendishly difficult rock puzzle.

HEARING VOICES

Invisibility is a great thing. It is especially good for passing small-minded guards who call you and your friends "bumpkins." Buy a Hide Herb in Lancel and use it to cloak your party long enough to pass those guards! (Once inside the Castle, you can wander freely.)

SOLVING THE PUZZLE

In Basement 1 of the Castle, you find a rock puzzle. The object is to push the rocks from their starting locations onto the blue tiles in the adjoining room. It's tricky, especially because there are obstacles all around. If you mess up or get lost, simply leave the room and the puzzle resets. When you solve the puzzle, a door leading to the Dry Vase opens.

◀ Start with the rock on the far left.

◀ Move the rock on the far right out of the way.

◀ Now you are free to move the middle rock into the blue tile room.

◀ Finally, move the right rock into the room.

SOO

Soo is a small village at the end of some rivers. The townspeople are extremely friendly and known for their honesty. Talk to them to learn that Soo was the home of the Dry Vase before soldiers stole it. One of the soldiers is still hiding in the village's well! The villagers also know a lot about the Echo Flute. When this instrument is near one of the 6 Orbs, it causes it to echo. Very handy!

A TRAVELER'S TALE

Was there a town on small grassy

You're asked if you've seen the beginnings of a town across the eastern mountain range. Sail west from Portoga and head north once you hit the shoreline. In the forest, you'll see a clearing. Enter the clearing to find a man from Soo who's trying to start his own village. Bring him a Dealer (create one and leave the character there) to jump-start the village's creation!

► In return for your help, the merchant tells you where to find a rare staff in Soo.

Boss: Orochi!

This Boss battle is so good you get to fight it twice! The Orochi can attack twice per round. Each physical attack does at least 30HP, so cast Increase right away. The Orochi can spray your party with its fiery breath, so items that protect the wearer against fire are useful. Have two fighter-type characters attack the Orochi while your spell casters cast support and healing spells.

The first time you defeat the Orochi, it teleports away. Follow it through the Traveler's Gate, but before you approach Himiko, heal your party with items, spells, or a stay at the nearby Shrine Inn. If you want the Purple Orb, you must not agree to keep Himiko's identity as the Orochi secret. This means you have to fight the Orochi again. The Orochi is even stronger than before. Use the same tactics as in the previous battle.

Once you've learned about the King's tyranny from the townspeople, head to the Castle. You won't be let in the front door, but you can sneak in through the kitchen. Explore the Castle as much as you dare before talking to the King. He immediately throws you in jail, but you can escape with the Final Key!

Talk to the prisoners to learn about the secret passage out, the Lar Mirror, and the truth behind the King's sudden change! Head out the secret passage and get ready to take on Samanao Cave!

Boss: Boss Troll

Once you have the Lar Mirror, return to the Castle and sneak into the King's room at night while he's asleep. Use the Lar Mirror on him to make his disguise instantly disappear. Of course, his true form is much more frightening!

The Boss Troll can easily do 50HP in damage with a single blow. He can also cast Defense to lower your party's DEF stats. Immediately cast StopSpell.

Bolster your party's defenses with Increase and have someone heal wounded companions. At the battle's start, cast TwinHits on your heaviest fighters to double their strength. Boss Troll has a 25 percent chance of performing Brutal Hits, so keep everyone's HP full by healing them every turn. If you can split the task of fighting and spell casting between your party members, you can defeat the Boss Troll. Once he's defeated you get the Change Staff!

THE LUV MEMORY PENDANT

The Luv Memory pendant commemorates the love between Eric, a sailor who died aboard the Phantom Ship, and Olivia. Olivia drowned herself off what is now known as Olivia Cape, and she continues to haunt the waters, preventing ships from passing through the cape to the Shrine Jail. GONDO CAVE

Other than Baramos' Castle, Gondo Cave is the most hazardous place in this part of the quest. If you have problems defeating the monsters you encounter on your way to the cave, level up your party more before attempting this dungeon. Gondo Cave is a long tunnel that takes you through the mountains to Gondo Shrine and Baramos' Castle on the other side. The Gondo Shrine contains the Silver Orb. Boss: Baramos

Baramos is the hardest Boss you've faced yet. He has heavy-damage physical attacks and powerful magic spells such as Explodet, PanicAll, BlazeMost, and Disperse. Casting Bounce puts you at a disadvantage (because it reflects any healing or party-support spells you cast), but Barrier and StopSpell are musts. In fact, if you can silence Baramos you've won half the battle! Of course, Baramos also has a powerful, non-magical fire attack, but it's better than constantly being hit with BlazeMost and Explodet!

Use similar tactics as in previous Boss battles. Have two spell casters casting healing and support spells while your fighters pummel Baramos. Baramos is hard to defeat, but not impossible—as long as you keep everyone protected and healed.

EMPRESS CASTLE

Empress Castle is surrounded by steep mountains to the north of the Jail Shrine and Olivia Cape. This mystical place is home to the pregnant Queen of the Dragons and a portal to other lands—if you bear the mark of Loto!

THE LIGHT ORB

Get the Light Orb from the Queen of the Dragons before heading to Alefgard. Because you are an adventurer of repute, she's glad to entrust it to you.

GIANA PIT

Giana Pit lies on the island opposite Baramos' Castle. If you visit it before you defeat Baramos, you'll find a pit surrounded by walls you can't get past. After you defeat Baramos and have been visited by the Demon Lord Zoma, the walls are in shambles. Jumping down the pit takes you to the Dark World, Alefgard.

FOLLOWING IN YOUR DAD'S FOOTSTEPS

When you visit Giana Pit before taking on Baramos, you learn that the last person to jump down the pit was your father, Ortega. You must defeat Baramos to follow in his footsteps.

TANTEGEL

Tantegel, the royal city of Alefgard, is the first city to seek out. From Tantegel Jetty, sail southeast to the shore, then trek east until you see the city and Zoma's Castle to the southeast across the river. Visit with the King of Tantegel to learn about the world's history under Zoma's reign. This gives you insight about the quest ahead.

In Tantegel you run into an old nemesis who swears that he has reformed. To prove this, he tells you the location of the Sun Stone, one of the items needed to get the Rainbow Drop.

THE SUN STONE

To find the Sun Stone, head to the Castle Kitchen and look for a staircase hidden by a stone ceiling. The screenshot here shows its location. In the room upstairs is the Sun Stone.

MISSING ARMOR

On the First Floor of Tantegel Castle you find some empty treasure chests. The weapons and armor once contained in these chests were stolen and hidden throughout the land. It's your job to collect them all. Only the one with the Hero Shield, Light Armor, and King's Sword can defeat the Demon Lord Zoma.

THE PIXY MAP

On the roof of the Castle, talk to a person walking in the northwest corner. He gives you the Pixy Map. This is the Alefgard version of the Magic Map and it works in exactly the same way.

ROCKY CAVE

Rocky Cave is in the mountainous area southwest of Tantegel. It's a low-key dungeon with some interesting treasures and challenging monsters. This is a good place to level up your characters.

MERCADO

Mercado is known for the high walls that protect the city from outside evils. Unfortunately, a tiredness plagues Mercado's citizens. None of the many businesses are open because the owners are so tired and depressed. The only facilities open are the Inn and the shrine in the south.

In the Inn you meet the famous traveling bard, Garin. Garin owns a splendid instrument called the Shiny Harp. Playing this instrument calls any monster nearby. This is a boon if you want some extra experience points. To get this treasure, travel to Garin's house in the continent's northwest corner and search the ground by a chest in the basement.

NAIL MARK

Nail Mark is one of the most difficult dungeons in Alefgard. Its twisted hallways are patrolled by Salamandr, Hydra, and other dangerous monsters. To make things worse, magic is prohibited in Nail Mark. The monsters you meet cannot use magic against you, but you cannot use magic to heal your party either. Save Nail Mark until after you've collected the King's Sword and Light Armor. At the bottom of Nail Mark, by the forge, is the Hero Shield.

KOL

Kol lies in Alefgard's northeast corner. This city is near Rubiss Tower, making it a good base while you level up and prepare for the dungeon. In Kol are the Pixy Flute and a man from Zipangu, who is known for the amazing things he can forge from good piece of metal. Kol is also the home of the fourth Pachisi Track.

Next, leave town and return immediately. When you revisit the Item Shop, you see the King's Sword on the item list.

THE FOURTH PACHISI TRACK

Find the entrance to the fourth Pachisi Track at the bottom of the well in Kol. Here you can win lots of prizes and rest up before continuing your quest.

RUBISS TOWER

Rubiss Tower contains two of the items needed to conquer Zoma. First, get to the top of the tower and grab the Light Armor from the chest. Then look for a ledge in the northwest corner of the Third Floor and jump off it to find a hidden entrance into the back of the tower. Take the stairs to the Fifth Floor and find the statue of Rubiss. If you play the Pixy Flute in front of the statue, it will awake and give you the Crest! For more hints or information about the tower, look for people on the east and west courtyards off the First Floor.

THE ROTATING TILES

The diamond shaped tiles in Rubiss Tower present a new challenge. When you step on one of these tiles, the controller directions go all screwy! This puzzle's secret lies in the tile colors. Tiles with white on the left side and black on the right turn the directions one step counter-clockwise. So, to go up you would press left, etc. Tiles with the white on the right side and black on the left turn the controller directions one step clockwise (so to go up you would press right). The easiest solution is to turn the Game Boy unit sideways in the direction in which the white side points.

THE JUMP-OFF POINT

From the front entrance you can only reach the front of the Castle and the Light Armor. To get to the statue of Rubiss on the Fifth Floor, you need to get to the back entrance. On the Third Floor, you find a ledge covered in rotating tiles. Hop off this ledge to land on a narrow strip of land. Look for the door to the back part of the tower.

ZOMA'S CASTLE

When you've collected the Light Orb, Rainbow Drop, Hero Shield, Light Armor, and the King's Sword, approach Zoma's Castle. Use the Rainbow Drop to create a bridge to the island, and cast StepGuard to protect your party while crossing the poisonous swamp. Zoma's Castle is the game's final challenge. Here you face four Bosses in a row, so come prepared! You fight through five floors to get to Zoma's hidden lair. A full sack of Herbs is a must (to conserve MP), as are as many Wizard Rings as you can get. LifeStones and World Leaves are also handy in case one of your spell casters falls in battle.

If your characters are at L40 or higher, you will survive this challenge.

THE HALL OF GRNDTITANS

Your first test in Zoma's Castle comes right away. To get to Zoma's throne room, you must survive the hall of GrndTitans. When you pass these powerful statues guarding the hallway, they come to life and attack you. GrndTitans are the same monsters that the Goopis call, so you have experience defeating them.

THE HIDDEN STAIRWELL

The path to the next floor lies hidden in the electrified tiles surrounding Zoma's throne. Search the ground behind the throne to uncover a set of stairs! If you use any other stairs, you get stuck in a loop.

ORTEGA, AT LAST!

When you get to Floor B4, you come across a strangely familiar warrior. In the hallway ahead of you, a warrior battles a KingHydra. Will he win or lose?

Boss: The Demon Lord Zoma and His Henchmen

Before you can take on Zoma, defeat three of his toughest henchmen. Each monster provides a unique challenge, and you must beat it while saving most of your resources for Zoma. Plenty of Wizard Rings help. Using the Sage Rock in battle is the equivalent of casting HealUs without using any valuable MP. Have one of your spell casters use this item every round or two.

KingHydra

The KingHydra is first. This fire-spewing beast can attack twice per round. Its bite attack does 100HP damage, and its less-damaging fire attack affects the entire party. Cast Barrier to protect your party from the fire attack, and use Increase to build up your party's DEF so they take less damage from the KingHydra's bite.

BaraBomus

BaraBomus is a variation of Baramos himself. BaraBomus casts Explodet in addition to a powerful fire attack and physical attack. Protect your party with Barrier and Bounce at the start of the battle, and you should outlast BaraBomus. Use Sap to defeat BaraBomus' high DEF rating.

BaraBomus/Medal #131

Location: Zoma's Castle

Gold: 450G Exp: 13,500 Items: Sorrow Shield

BaraGonus

BaraGonus relies solely on physical attacks that inflict 130-150HP damage per blow. He can attack twice a round, so your party can end up in mortal danger. Cast Increase repeatedly until the damage you receive dramatically drops. Then funnel all of your strength into attacking BaraGonus until he is gone.

Zoma

After you've healed your team completely and restored as much MP as possible with Wizard Rings, take on Zoma. Zoma can wipe out the effects of any support spell you cast. This means that you should channel all of your spell casters' MP into powerful attack spells or high-level healing spells.

After using the Light Orb to weaken Zoma's powers, have the Hero cast Thordain whenever possible and have your Sage/Cleric/Mage cast HealUs or BlazeMost or use the Sage Rock every turn. If party members fall, resurrect them immediately. Zoma can cast Blizzard and has a powerful, non-magical ice attack that affects all party members. These attacks can cause 100HP of damage to everyone, so have someone healing every round. It is very easy to lose half of your party in a round with Zoma.

ZENITH CASTLE

High above the clouds is a third world. It's not a third quest but an added challenge! To reach the top of Zenith Castle, you must survive the monsters that inhabit the passages and tunnels leading up there. The dungeon of Zenith Castle, although made up of floors from already familiar dungeons, is patrolled by strong monsters including the BaraEvil and the DarkTroll. Until you are sure that your party can handle any monster the dungeon throws at you, stay near the entrance. When you get to Zenith Castle proper, you meet many interesting people who prepare you for the challenge ahead. At the very top of Zenith Castle floats the Divinegon!

THE MARK OF LOTO

Once you've beaten Zoma and gained the title of Loto, restart the game using the Loto save. Although you return to your last save point before taking on

Zoma, you can

now enter the

Sky World

through the beam of light at Empress Castle. However, go through Zoma's Castle and get the Sage Rock first!

THE KING OF ZENITH CASTLE

When you reach the Castle Floor of Zenith Castle, relax. King Zenith cannot heal you or save your progress, but arriving at this point activates Zenith Castle on the Return Spell menu. Now you can run to another Castle to rest at an Inn and save with a King and then return to Zenith Castle to take on more monsters.

I am Zenith, and I rule the Castle!

THE TINYMEDAL SAGE

On the Castle Floor of Zenith Castle, you find the TinyMedal Sage. This man can help you find all of the TinyMedals left in the game.

However, you first have to solve his riddles. Find the location given in the riddle and search the ground for a hidden item. When you return to the Sage with the item, he either goes on to the next riddle or gives you hints about where to find the remaining TinyMedals!

Allow me to give you a riddle.

THE DIVINEGON'S WISHES

At the very top of Zenith Castle sits the Divinegon. This creature can make wishes come true. The catch is, you have to defeat him in battle first. The Divinegon is the most powerful monster you've encountered so far, and your party needs to be at the top of its game to defeat him. However, if you defeat him, he grants you one of five wishes. Those wishes are top secret!

MINI-GAMES GALORE!

Many places in shrines and beneath major cities offer a different kind of rest and relaxation than collapsing in a dingy Inn after a long day of beating up monsters. After all, what adventurer doesn't enjoy a good Mini-Game now and then to take his or her mind off of the quest at hand? This chapter provides a mini-tutorial to the Mini-Games available in Dragon Warrior III from the simple Tiny Medal hunt, to the grandeur of the Monster Stadiums and the challenge of the Pachisi Track!

THE TINY MEDAL MAN

At the bottom of the well in Aliahan lives a man who collects Tiny Medals. These rather nondescript medals are hidden almost everywhere in the worlds of Dragon Warrior III. You'll find Tiny Medals hidden in treasure chests, dresser drawers, vases, and hanging sacks—but those are only the obvious places! To find the rest, search the floor tiles, bushes, and patches of grass in every city, cave, tower and castle!

▲ A man who collects Tiny Medals lives at the bottom of the well in Aliahan. Why he lives at the bottom of a well (and in a nice house, too!) is unknown.

◀ Finding Tiny Medals requires lots of nosiness on your part. However, the rewards are worth it!

When you talk to the Tiny Medal Man for the first time, he explains his craving for these small medals and ask you to collect them for him. As an incentive, he gives you prizes whenever you meet certain collection goals. The rewards he speaks of are some of the rarer items including the Justice Abacus (the Dealer's top weapon), the Dragon Claw, and the Sacred Bikini! For a complete list of the prizes available and the number of Tiny Medals needed to win them, look at the list on his bookcase or refer to the one below.

◀ Don't have your guide handy? Just take a look at the Medal Prize List on the Tiny Medal Man's bookcase!

◀ The Justice Abacus is only one of many unique prizes to be won here.

FINDING TINY MEDALS

There are 110 Tiny Medals hidden throughout the worlds of Dragon Warrior III, and you'll need all of your talents to find them. However, a couple of tricks make this task somewhat easier.

The best way to find Tiny Medals is to use the Thief spells Smell and MapMagic. Smell determines how many items are left to be found in an area, while MapMagic points out where particularly well-hidden items are located.

► Whenever you enter an area, have your Thief (or a character who once was a Thief) cast Smell, which tells you how many treasures are left in an area.

Treasures include anything in a chest, dresser, hanging sack, vase, barrel, bookcase, or hidden in a floor tile, patch of grass, or a bush. Cast Smell after clearing treasures out of the obvious areas, so you'll have a better idea of where and what to examine.

► Most hidden Tiny Medals are found in floor tiles, grass, flowers, or bushes. Look for unusual arrangements of bushes, at the tiles around statues, or at decorative patches on the ground. Use MapMagic to help pinpoint the location of hidden items. When cast, MapMagic shows the location of hidden items on your current screen with a glittery swirl (look at the section of ground circled in the image). You have to look quickly to see it!

◀ Search the tile that MapMagic has marked to find an item—usually a Tiny Medal.

If you're still having trouble finding Tiny Medals, seek help from a man who lives in a castle above the clouds. To get there, defeat the Demon Lord in Alefgard, then travel on a sunbeam to a dangerous cave that eventually leads to Zenith Castle. However, the testing doesn't stop there! Before the man will help you, you must solve three riddles by visiting the location mentioned and finding an item. Complete his test and he rewards you with information on the locations of some of the trickier Tiny Medals!

◀ If you can find this man and solve his riddles, you are a great adventurer!

MONSTER STADIUM

Beneath many of the major cities of Dragon Warrior III, you find arenas used for the sport of monster battling. Here, the townspeople (often including royalty) come to enjoy an evening of gambling and sport. Betting on the battles in the Monster Stadium is not the safest way to make money, but it can be a lot of fun!

You can find Monster Stadiums in Romaly, Isis, Samanao, and Mercado. Just look for a house with a staircase leading down into the bowels of the city—that's the entrance to the Monster Stadium!

▲ Romaly Monster Stadium

▲ Isis Monster Stadium

▲ Samanao Monster Stadium

▲ Mercado Monster Stadium

Once inside the Monster Stadium, you can choose to talk to people and leave, get tips from a remarkably inaccurate salesman, or place a bet and enjoy a monster battle. To bet on a monster battle, follow these steps:

◀ Step One: Talk to the agent at the ticket desk to buy a ticket to the bout. Each battle requires a different ante, and the price increases the more often you bet.

► Step Two: After you've bought a ticket, look at the odds before deciding which monster to bet on. The monsters that appear in the battles largely depend on your party's current level. Choosing the winner requires a certain amount of luck and knowledge about the monsters in the battle. Use your intuition if the odds don't give you enough to go by.

▲ Step Three: Sit back and watch the fight play out. Try not to disturb those around you with your cheering.

- Step Four: Did you win or lose? Regardless, at the end of the battle, you are returned to the ticket desk. If you won the battle, you get paid. If not, you get hit up for another bet. Should you decide to continue betting, the ticket seller sells you another ticket and the fun continues.

- Opposite the ticket desk, you'll find a person who sells advice on which monster to choose. In my experience, this person is almost always wrong, which can be helpful in itself.

PACHISI TRACKS

The third and final Mini-Game that awaits travelers is the most involved and the most fun! Pachisi is a single-player board game that uses one of your characters as the pawn. Each board is a different shape and is composed of a variety of different types of tiles that spell either reward or disaster for your character. If you make it to the GOAL before you run out of dice rolls or before one of several disasters befall you, you'll be amply rewarded with powerful weapons, armor, or unique items.

Four Pachisi Tracks are easy to access (to get to the fifth one you have to defeat the Divinegon at the top of Zenith Castle). They are located in out-of-the-way shrines or at the bottom of wells. You'll know when you come across one.

To play Pachisi, you must have a Token. Tokens can be found most anywhere, in dressers, vases, barrels, treasure chests, and as the spoils of battles. If you thoroughly explore each city and dungeon, you'll have an ample supply of Tokens to use at the various Pachisi Tracks.

Each Pachisi Track has a set number of dice rolls that you can use to get to the GOAL square. If you run out of dice rolls, the game ends. The game can also end prematurely if your character runs out of HP or falls through a trapdoor. If you quit the game you won't get your Token back.

Each square on the board has a purpose. To reach the GOAL square, you must survive the challenges placed in front of you. These include bouts with monsters, encounters with electrified tiles, the loss of money or dice rolls, trapdoors, and squares that cause random damage or changes to your stats. In addition to these challenges, to win you must roll the exact amount needed to land on the GOAL tile.

On the plus side, you also find treasure chests, Inns, and Item Shops on the Pachisi Track. Inns, although expensive, allow you to rest and regain any lost HP or MP. The Item Shops on Pachisi Tracks are always guaranteed to carry unique items.

PACHISI TILES

Screen	Tile	Explanation
	Start Gate	This is where you say good-bye to your three companions and start the game.

THE WORLD OF MAGIC IN DRAGON WARRIOR III

Seven of the nine character classes can learn magic spells related to their field of expertise. Some of these spells come in very handy; some you may never use. When looking at the tables below, keep a few things in mind:

- Sages learn both Mage and Cleric spells at the same time that a Mage or Cleric would learn them. If you turn your Mage into a Sage at L20, that character learns Cleric spells until he or she reaches L20 again, at which time he or she will learn both Mage and Cleric spells.
- The level given at which a character learns a certain spell is an approximation. A character can learn a spell if his or her stats are high enough to allow it. To guarantee that your characters learn spells when they are supposed to, make sure that their personalities are in synch with their job classes. For example, a Smart Mage gains higher MP and INT raises, which allows him or her to learn and cast more spells. On the other hand, a Macho Mage is more likely to gain more STR than INT, which ultimately hinders his or her magic development.
- Certain spells work differently in the hands of the enemy. For example, when a monster casts YellHelp, it calls another type of monster to aid in the battle. When your Dealer casts this on the field, it summons an Innkeeper, Dealer, or Priest to your aid.

ATTACK SPELLS

Blaze Family This is one of two basic fireball spells. The Blaze spells allow the caster to throw a powerful fireball at a single enemy, concentrating the attack's power. This is one of the first attack spells learned in the game.

Name	MP	Target	Usage	Effect	Class
Blaze	2	1E	Battle	Inflicts around 10HP of damage.	H L2 M L1 S L1
BlazeMore	6	1E	Battle	Inflicts around 80HP of damage.	H L17 S L17
BlazeMost	12	1E	Battle	Inflicts around 180HP of damage.	M L36 S L36

Firebal Family This is the second of the fireball spells. Instead of the Blaze spells' concentrated blast of fire, Firebal directs a stream of fire against a single group of enemies, burning all of them.

Name	MP	Target	Usage	Effect	Class
Firebal	4	1GE	Battle	Inflicts about 25HP of damage.	H L10 M L7 S L7
Firebane	6	1GE	Battle	Inflicts about 35HP of damage.	H L23 M L14 S L14
Firebolt	12	1GE	Battle	Inflicts about 100HP of damage.	M L29 S L29

Bang Family The Bang spells affect all enemy monsters on the screen. This works well when your party is faced with a large group of single monsters. Bang spells are bomb-based.

Name	MP	Target	Usage	Effect	Class
Bang	5	All E	Battle	Inflicts about 20HP of damage.	M L11 S L11
Boom	9	All E	Battle	Inflicts about 60HP of damage.	H L31 M L23 S L23
Explodet	18	All E	Battle	Inflicts about 140HP of damage.	M L38 S L38

Infernos Family The Infernos spells direct a sharp blast of razor-sharp winds against a single group of enemies. This family of spells is slightly less powerful than the Firebal family.

Name	MP	Target	Usage	Effect	Class
Infernos	4	1GE	Battle	Inflicts about 15HP of damage.	C L12 S L12
Infermore	6	1GE	Battle	Inflicts about 40HP of damage.	C L26 S L26
Infermost	9	1GE	Battle	Inflicts about 90HP of damage.	C L36 S L36

IceBolt Family The spells in this family shoot shards of ice and surround the enemy in a howling blizzard. Note that different spells affect different numbers of targets.

Name	MP	Target	Usage	Effect	Class
IceBolt	3	1E	Battle	Inflicts about 30HP of damage.	M L5 S L5
SnowStorm	6	1GE	Battle	Inflicts about 50HP of damage.	M L20 S L20
BlizMost	9	All E	Battle	Inflicts about 70HP of damage.	M L26 S L26
Blizzard	12	1GE	Battle	Inflicts about 100HP of damage.	M L32 S L32

Zap Family These lightning-based spells belong to the Hero class alone. Thordain is especially powerful—this is useful when facing the Demon Lord and his henchmen!

Name	MP	Target	Usage	Effect	Class
Zap	8	1E	Battle	Inflicts about 80HP of damage.	H L26
Thordain	30	All E	Battle	Inflicts about 200HP of damage.	H L41

Beat Family Beat and Defeat both curse the targeted monster(s) to death. These spells' accuracy is pretty low, however, so don't rely on them to slay powerful enemies such as bosses.

Name	MP	Target	Usage	Effect	Class
Beat	7	1E	Battle	Curses the target to instant death.	C L22 S L22
Defeat	7	1GE	Battle	Curses the target to instant death.	C L28 S L28

BeDragon BeDragon turns the caster into a fire-breathing dragon for the duration of the battle. As a dragon, he or she can breathe fire on all enemy units. Monsters that can cancel spells nullify the effects of this spell.

Name	MP	Target	Usage	Effect	Class
BeDragon	24	Self	Battle	As a dragon the caster can inflict 80-190HP of damage against all enemies.	M L34 S L34

Sacrifice This spell requires the ultimate self-sacrifice on the part of the caster. Sacrifice explodes a bomb powerful enough to take out all the monsters—and the caster.

Name	MP	Target	Usage	Effect	Class
Sacrifice	1	All E	Battle	Kills all enemies in return for the caster's life.	C L41 S L41

SUPPORT SPELLS

Disperse Use this spell to make an enemy disappear. Should an enemy cast it on one of your party members, return to Aliahan and Ruida's Tavern to find the missing teammate. This spell does not have a high accuracy rate.

Name	MP	Target	Usage	Effect	Class
Disperse	7	1E	Battle	Blows a single enemy off the battlefield.	C L20 S L20

Sap Family These spells destroy the enemy's defense rating. Sap works against a single enemy, while Defense works against a group. Use these spells to counter the effects of Increase or against well-armored enemies.

Name	MP	Target	Usage	Effect	Class
Sap	3	1E	Battle	Reduces a single enemy's defense.	C L8 S L8
Defense	4	1GE	Battle	Reduces the defenses of a group of enemies.	C L18 S L18

Sleep Use Sleep to put a group of monsters to sleep for a round or more of battle. The spell has a low accuracy rate.

Name	MP	Target	Usage	Effect	Class
Sleep	3	1GE	Battle	Puts a group of monsters to sleep.	H L16 C L9 S L9

StopSpell When successful, this spell silences the enemy and prevents him or her from casting spells. It does not prevent enemies from using breath attacks.

Name	MP	Target	Usage	Effect	Class
StopSpell	3	1GE	Battle	Prevents the enemy from casting spells.	H L8 C L13 S L9

RobMagic RobMagic allows the caster to steal an enemy's Magic Points. Use this spell offensively to replace your own MP or defensively to prevent an enemy from casting a deadly spell.

Name	MP	Target	Usage	Effect	Class
RobMagic	0	1GE	Battle	Steals 8 or more MP from the targeted enemy.	M L15 S L15

PanicAll PanicAll makes a single enemy panic and become confused. Confused enemies are more likely to attack their own teammates and can be quite deadly.

Name	MP	Target	Usage	Effect	Class
PanicAll	5	1E	Battle	Causes an enemy to become confused.	M L27 S L27

Expel This spell is very similar to Disperse. If it's successful, a beam of light transports the targeted enemies off the battlefield. This spell has a low accuracy rating, so don't rely on it in important battles!

Name	MP	Target	Usage	Effect	Class
Expel	2	1GE	Battle	Eliminates a group of enemies.	H L6 C L2 S L2

TwinHits This spell increases the attack strength of one of your teammates. This is one of the most helpful spells against some of the game's more powerful monsters.

Name	MP	Target	Usage	Effect	Class
TwinHits	6	1A	Battle	Doubles the targeted ally's ATK strength.	M L21 S L21

SpeedUp This spell raises the agility of all your party members, so you can attack before the enemy does.

Name	MP	Target	Usage	Effect	Class
SpeedUp	3	All A	Battle	Increases the AGL of all party members.	C L5 S L5

SlowAll This spell has the opposite effect of SpeedUp. Cast this to slow down the enemy. This spell also lets you attack first.

Name	MP	Target	Usage	Effect	Class
SlowAll	3	1GE	Battle	Decreases the AGL of a group of enemies.	M L12 S L12

Transform This spell allows you to duplicate a character. For example, you can turn your Mage or Sage into your hardest warrior. Watch out for monsters who can nullify your party's spells!

Name	MP	Target	Usage	Effect	Class
Transform	12	Self	Battle	Transforms the caster into a chosen party member.	M L37 S L37

DEFENSE SPELLS

Upper Family Both Upper and Increase augment your characters' DEF. Upper has a stronger effect, but affects a single character. Increase has a slightly weaker effect, but affects the whole party.

Name	MP	Target	Usage	Effect	Class
Upper	3	1A	Battle	Sharply increases a single character's DEF.	M L4 S L4
Increase	4	All A	Battle	Increases the DEF of all party members.	M L9 S L9

Ironize This spell turns your party members into blocks of iron, protecting them from attacks. However, your party cannot perform any attacks while protected by this spell.

Name	MP	Target	Usage	Effect	Class
Ironize	6	All A	Battle	Turns party into blocks of iron that cannot be damaged.	H L12

Surround This spell surrounds a group of monsters with a dense fog, lowering their accuracy. As with many support-type spells, this one is not effective against all monsters.

Name	MP	Target	Usage	Effect	Class
Surround	4	1GE	Battle	Reduces the enemy's accuracy.	C L7 S L7

Bounce Bounce creates a wall of light that protects the party by reflecting spells back on the caster. However, it also reflects any support or healing spells.

Name	MP	Target	Usage	Effect	Class
Bounce	8	Self	Battle	Reflects spells cast on the party.	M L24 S L24

Barrier This defensive spell conjures up a wall that halves the effects of fire- and ice-based attacks.

Name	MP	Target	Usage	Effect	Class
Barrier	6	All A	Battle	Decreases the damage of fire-and ice-type attacks.	C L32 S L32

HEALING SPELLS

Heal Family This family contains all the game's healing spells. Each one heals a specific range of HP.

Name	MP	Target	Usage	Effect	Class
Heal	3	1A	Any time	Recovers about 35HP.	H L4 C L1 S L1
HealMore	5	1A	Any time	Recovers about 85 HP.	H L29 C L14 S L14
HealAll	7	1A	Any time	Recovers all HP.	H L33 C L30 S L30
HealUs	18	All A	Any time	Recovers about 85HP for all party members.	C L34 S L34
HealUsAll	62	All A	Any time	Recovers all HP for all party members.	H L38

CURATIVE SPELLS

Antidote This spell works like the Antidote item to cure a party member of Poison.

Name	MP	Target	Usage	Effect	Class
Antidote	3	1A	Any time	Cures teammate of Poison.	C L11 S L11

NumbOff This spell works like the Moon Herb item to cure a party member of Paralysis.

Name	MP	Target	Usage	Effect	Class
NumbOff	6	1A	Any time	Cures a teammate of Paralysis.	C L15 S L15

Awaken When cast in battle, this spell awakens any sleeping party member. No items do the equivalent of this spell.

Name	MP	Target	Usage	Effect	Class
Awaken	3	All A	Battle	Awakens any sleeping party members.	C L16 S L16

CurseOff This spell cures a party member of the Curse status. This spell acts in place of Priest ministrations in towns and villages.

Name	MP	Target	Usage	Effect	Class
CurseOff	18	1A	Field	Cures teammate of Cursed status.	M L30 S L30

REVIVING SPELLS

Vivify Family These spells come in handy if a teammate expires in battle. In addition to resurrection, Vivify restores half of the target's HP while Revive heals the target completely. You may have to cast these spells several times to be successful.

Name	MP	Target	Usage	Effect	Class
Vivify	10	1A	Any time	Resurrects and restores half of the target's HP.	H L35 C L24 S L24
Revive	20	1A	Any time	Resurrects and restores all of the target's HP.	C L38 S L38

TRAVEL SPELLS

Return This spell is handy for traveling between known cities and villages. Not all villages will appear on your list of travel destinations.

Name	MP	Target	Usage	Effect	Class
Return	8	All A	Any time	Returns party to a designated town.	H L7 M L12 S L12

Outside This spell whisks your party out of dangerous caves, towers, or other dungeon locations and drops you off outside the entrance. Use this at the end of Boss battles to avoid the long walk out.

Name	MP	Target	Usage	Effect	Class
Outside	8	All A	Field	Returns party to the outside of a dungeon or tower.	H L14 M L9 S L9

Repel This spell comes in handy if you lack the Repellent item. It wraps your party in a magic cloud that scares away weaker enemies. However, it doesn't have any effect in dungeons where magic is sealed.

Name	MP	Target	Usage	Effect	Class
Repel	4	All A	Field	Keeps weaker enemies from attacking.	H L19

StepGuard This is a wonderful spell when you're faced with poisonous swamps and electric fields. Cast this on your party and everyone can walk on those dangerous tiles with impunity for a short while.

Name	MP	Target	Usage	Effect	Class
StepGuard	2	All A	Field	Protects travel over damage-inflicting floors.	M L19 S L19

Tiptoe This spell helps your party walk more silently, to avoid alerting any enemies in the vicinity. Unlike Repel, this spell works in dungeons where magic use is sealed off.

Name	MP	Target	Usage	Effect	Class
Tiptoe	0	All A	Field	Prevents monsters from hearing your approach.	T L17

OTHER SPELLS

Recall Family These spells are specific to the Hero class only. Whenever you run into a character with something interesting to say, press SELECT to memorize the speech. Then use Recall, Remember, or Recollect to replay the contents of that speech. The higher the spell's power, the stronger the Hero's powers of recollection. Use Forget to delete speeches that you no longer need.

Name	MP	Target	Usage	Effect	Class
Recall	0	Self	Field	Remember up to 3 speeches.	H L1
Remember	0	Self	Field	Remember up to 10 speeches.	H L8
Recollect	0	Self	Field	Remember up to 32 speeches.	H L20
Forget	0	Self	Field	Forget a selected speech.	H L15

Passtime This spell turns night into day and day into night, similar to the Dark Lamp item. Use this to explore towns at any time of the day.

Name	MP	Target	Usage	Effect	Class
Passtime	12	All A	Field	Turns day into night and vice-versa.	M L25 S L25

X-Ray This spell tells you whether a treasure chest is safe to open or is a Mimic or Cannibox in disguise. These monsters can be quite deadly, so use this whenever you find suspicious chests. Chests that glow blue are safe to open, while those that glow red contain a monster. Chests that glow yellow contain monsters and items!

Name	MP	Target	Usage	Effect	Class
X-Ray	3	T. Chest	Field	Indicates whether a chest holds an item or a monster.	M L18 S L18

Location Family Use these spells if you are lost in a dungeon or on the World Map. Location works in dungeons to help you figure out what floor you're on. Use EagleEye while traveling between cities and dungeons to determine how close you are to your desired location.

Name	MP	Target	Usage	Effect	Class
Location	2	Floor	Field	Identifies what floor your party is on in a dungeon.	T L10
EagleEye	0	Field	Field	Identifies the location of a nearby town or building.	T L8

Smell Family Not sure if you've gotten all the treasure in a town, castle, or dungeon? Use one of these spells. Smell lets you know how many items you have yet to find (even if that item is hidden in a floor tile), and MapMagic alerts you to any irregularities in the area.

Name	MP	Target	Usage	Effect	Class
Smell	0	Floor	Field	Determines the number of items on a dungeon floor or in a building.	TL13
MapMagic	2	Screen	Field	Tells you if there is anything mysterious in sight.	T L20
Excavate	0	Underfoot	Field	Digs in the earth beneath your feet for money or items.	D L12

Open Use this spell to open any door for which there is a key. This won't work on doors for which there is no key.

Name	MP	Target	Usage	Effect	Class
Open	0	Door	Field	Opens any locked door.	M L35 S L35

Whistle Family Unfortunately, this spell doesn't work the same for you as it does for your enemies. Instead, use Whistle to summon monsters to battle for experience. YellHelp works well when there isn't a city in range.

Name	MP	Target	Usage	Effect	Class
Whistle	0	—	Field	Summons monsters to battle with.	J L13
YellHelp	15	—	Field	Randomly summons a Dealer, Innkeeper, or Priest.	D L17

Invisible Like the Hide Herb item, this spell makes your party invisible briefly. It isn't a good alternative for Repel or Tiptoe because it doesn't fool enemies.

Name	MP	Target	Usage	Effect	Class
Invisible	15	All A	Field	Turns your party invisible for a short time.	M L33 S L33

Chance It's hard to know what will happen when this spell is cast. This spell can change the tide of your current battle either in your or your enemies' favor.

Name	MP	Target	Usage	Effect	Class
Chance	20	???	Battle	This spell has random effects.	M L40 S L40

THE MONSTERS OF DRAGON WARRIOR III

The monsters you'll encounter in Dragon Warrior III are many and varied. As in most RPGs, you start out battling basic monsters and work your way up to the most difficult and dangerous Boss monsters. How you battle the monsters you encounter depends largely upon your party's composition and weapons. For example, a party composed of three magic users and a fighter type fights monsters differently than a party made up largely of fighter types (i.e., magic attacks against groups vs. stronger attacks on single monsters). Teams that have one or two party members equipped with whips or boomerangs that deal out smaller amounts of damage to groups of monsters attack differently than those equipped with single-target swords. Even simple differences such as having a Cleric instead of a Mage will affect your battle strategies.

NOTE All of the Bosses in Dragon Warrior III are covered in "A Walk Through the Worlds of Dragon Warrior III" in the locations they appear in the game.

Most monsters in Dragon Warrior III use physical attacks. As you continue through the game, the monsters become more complex, adding magic spells and special attacks to their repertoire. Always counter their magic spells with magic of your own. Stop monsters who rely heavily on magic by casting StopSpell. Some monsters have attacks that have additional effects, such as Poison or Paralysis. Others have attacks that mimic certain magic spells, but are unaffected by StopSpell. These include ice, fire, poison, and sleep breath-type attacks. Use the information about each monster given below to plan the best strategy for your particular team.
